Plans Call For New Community, Shopping Center, Park Areas

The Christen Dairy ranch, one of the last remaining sizeable parcels of undeveloped property on the north Peninsula, has been purchased by Suburban Realty Company of San Francisco.

Involved in the purchase is an estimated 800 acres of choice rolling hills land located just south of Daly City and bounded by Junipero Serra boulevard on the east and Skyline boulevard on the west.

Principals in the organization making the purchase include Carl and Fred Gellert, prominent San Francisco builders, along with representatives of San Francisco's Crocker Deed Company.

Purchase price of the property exceeds $10,000,000, according to Carl Gellert, 2222 19th avenue, president of the newly-formed corporation. Executive vice president of the organization is William F. Morton, who is also vice president and general manager of Crocker Estate Company of 660 Market street, San Francisco.

Other directors include E. V. Schulhauser, Fred Gellert and Fred Bahrt, all of 2222 19th avenue; Emmett G. Solomon of San Francisco, president of the Crocker Anglo National Bank; Frederick Crocker Whitman, St. Francis Investment Company, San Francisco; Robert Homans, 1100 Crocker building, San Francisco. M. Sherman Eubanks of Crocker Estate Company is treasurer.

Of the 100,000 shares of stock in the enterprise, 50,000 are owned by the Crocker group. Balance of the stock is distributed among the other individuals and the firms in which they are principals.

Gellert said his form has retained a group of the nation's top land planning authorities to recommend the best possible use of the property.

Tentative plans call for construction of a complete community "that will accomplish the proper consolidation of our land with the surrounding built-up areas," Gellert explained.

He said planning studies of the property will get under way upon completion of the boundary surveys which should be finished within 60 days.

"It will be our aim," he added, "to build a fine residential community complete with single and multi-family dwellings, commercial areas, shopping centers, parks and playgrounds. We will seek the best landscape authorities and architects in the country to help us in this immense undertaking."

Such a community would likely involve the investment of $150,000,000 or more, Gellert estimated.

The land involved in the purchase has been used by the Christen family for dairy ranching since before the turn of the century. Principal owner for the past 50 years has been Harry Christen, who has continued to operate his dairy business on the ranch as neighboring areas gave way to suburban developments in the years following World War II.

The ranch is now surrounded on all sides by residential communities of South San Francisco, Colma, Daly City and Pacifica.

The property is involved in plans for the new Junipero Serra freeway which will extend along the entire eastern frontage. An east-west lateral highway will involve a portion of the northern section of the property.

Annexation -- Christen Ranch, Crocker Lands?

By JACK WOOD

Envisioning the Crocker Hills area annexed as a part of Daly City takes quite a stretch of the imagination. Yet Daly City's council and Chamber of Commerce officials have brought the question into the open.

It is an almost isolated region, yet a beautiful one.

The land rises high above the city proper. Follow Crocker avenue to the top of the hill where it crests into a small, winding two-lane road some 18 feet wide.

There you see the world change completely from its white walls of stucco down below and open up into huge rolling hills, deep ravines, and open stretches of meadow, interspersed with patches of eucalyptus.

The so-called "TV tower hills" are reached after what seems an almost limitless time of following a winding road through this park-like area.

Then a breath-taking view unfolds below. Daly City-Colma is seen in patches of white box-like patterns. Westlake and Westlake Terrace lies in latticed array on the glistening landscape.

With each turn of the road, the viewer sees another section of country, another view of the Bay Area. Lake Merced lies like a dimpled blue lagoon encircled in a tiny tree-lined strip of land near the blue Pacific.

The road passes between TV towers on each side of the road, standing like sentinels. A National Guard Nike site rests prettily on he ledge of a hill at the end of a narrow lane leading off from the main road.

A road leading off from the main course is the former Daly City-Brisbane road, which terminates at a "Stop" sign at the Crocker Land Company holdings. This road is quaint and colorful, beginning under a canopy of evergreens and opening up beautiful vistas which appear stolen from a Western movie.

A horseman rides past. Horses graze in a green valley below a wooded ridge as the road circles its slow way into the Crocker buildings.

This road will be improved as part of a city-county agreement linking Daly City and Brisbane. The project is currently under study by the county highway commission.

Perhaps the vision of Fred Martin, director for the Daly City Chamber of Commerce, will be someday achieved. That is that part of this land will become a park for Daly City, with swimming and recreation areas.

Perhaps it will never be realized, but one must admit the land is indeed beautiful and comparitively untouched, and little-traveled, except for an occasional sightseer, or couple using the privacy of the area for a lover's lane.

Christen Lands

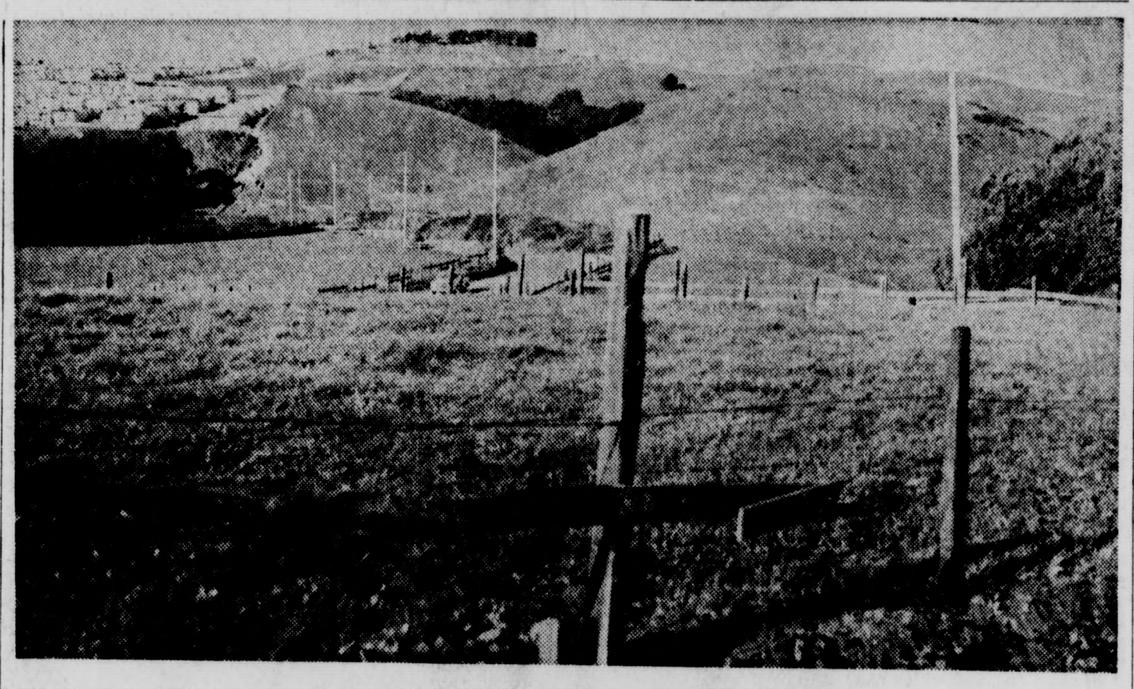
The Christen lands abuting the Chinese cemetery is another comparitively untouched parcel of real estate. This land was under consideration for annexation last year by the council. However, annexation studies were laid aside when city officials said a proper land use plan was not presented.

This land, also, is dotted with eucalyptus trees and deep gorges, following a meandering road from Skyline boulevard and down to Colma.

Groups of cows graze peacefully within a few minutes' drive from freeways and housing developments.

Both the Christen and Crocker areas are relatively untouched.



800 ACRES—One of the biggest Bay Area land deals in recent years was culminated this week with the sale of the Christen ranch, south of Daly City. View of ranchland shows rolling hills and edge of Westlake. City council hearings on annexation of this land last October were halted for lack of a proper land use plan.

Husband Found 16 Hours After Freeway Crash

The body of a Pacifica real estate man was found 16 hours after a car crash early Sunday about a mile south of Daly City.

Shortly after the collision occurred, about 1 a. m., patrolmen found Mrs. Carol Folger, 29, of 10 Hibbert court, Pacifica, at the foot of a 30 foot embankment beside the Edgemar Freeway. She was in critical condition at Peninsula Hospital with head injuries and fractures of her jaw and both legs.

The driver of the other car, Louis E. Sanchez, 41, of 1366 48th avenue, San Francisco, was found in his vehicle, injured, but less seriously.

As a surgeon worked over Mrs. Folger, she began murmuring inquiries about the condition of her husband, Dewayne, 29. Highway patrolmen returned to the scene about 2 a.m. and found nothing. Again, about 4 a. m., the patrolmen returned and found nothing.

When Folger still had not returned home Sunday afternoon, patrolmen went to the scene a third time and after a painstaking search discovered Folger's body in a deep gully thickly tangled with scrub—150 feet from the point of impact of the two cars.

Hospital Requests To Annex

Mary's Help Hospital and the Roman Catholic Archbishop of San Francisco have sunbmitted a petition requesting annexation of 22.4 acres of territory to the city of Daly City.

Mayor Joseph Verducci has referred the petition to the city staff for study and report. On behalf of the members of the council, he stated he was happy to have the hospital in the area.

The council introduced an ordinance, amending the old ordinance in order to limit the number of animals a resident may have on his premises from 25 animals to a smaller number.

The city manager was instructed to take steps to inform the public that the name Westlake Court has been changed to Westlake Mall.

An ordinance was introduced regulating solicitations for charitable or philanthropic purposes by house to house canvass. The ordinance, prepared by request of councilmen and the police department, will require registration of those engaged in solicitations for religious purposes; prohibiting solicitation by false or fraudulent statements, and providing penalties for violation of the ordiance.

Ask Study Of Christen Property

Mayor Joseph Verducci of Daly City has ordered a study of the areas around Daly City, especially the Christen lands, with a view toward annexation.

The property, numbering more than 1,000 acres may someday be developed as a residential area and could provide housing for an additional 19,000 to 20,000 residents.

Verducci said, however, that he didn't think any one city would get the Crocker estates. Daly City officials, he added, are vitally interested in the Crocker lands also with the possibility of using parts of it as commercial land.

Although Verducci fought against the Callan annexation in 1960, taking the stand the Callan land was too far from Daly City and would be difficult to service from the standpoint of police, fire and public work facilities...he is the council's most outspoken voice in favor of annexation of the Cristen lands.

Verducci stated that if Daly City acquired more lands it might possibly become "the most influential community in San Mateo County" without working any hardship.

South San Francisco, Brisbane, Pacifica and San Bruno might possibly also stand ready to annex lands adjacent to Daly City.

Annexation of new residential and shopping center areas or parcels of land upon which such development was proposed has largely been responsible for Daly City's growth during the past 10 years. These areas have included Westlake, Westlake Terrace, Westlake Knolls, St. Francis Heights, the Palisades and others.

Daly City engineer William Chapman has gone into the Cristen lands and reviewed a master plan for major streets. He reviewed the east-west freeway in regards to this land and studied the possible extension of the water system.

Major problem, in the area, he said, would be the Chinese Cemetery. This cemetery, he said, would have to be buffered off with parks or possibly schools, before a residential area could be built around it.

Finance director Joseph Arch said regarding annexation that the city should consider what shopping areas are going to be involved, what fire protection will be required, how many police cars and extra policemen will be involved, how recreation facilities will be located and whether or not reservoirs and transmission lines will be paid by the builder.

Schools and parks and football fields now stand where John Daly's milk cows used to wander the hillsides in search of grass. Daly City, presently third in population with some 50,000 may well be destined to become the largest city in San Mateo County.

Bids Sought For New DC Post Office

The post office department is seeking competitive bids to build and lease the new main post office at Daly City, Postmaster General J. Edward Day announced.

Under the department's lease construction program, the site selected on the west line of Sullivan avenue, between 88th and 89th streets, will be assigned to the successful bidder, who will purchase the property, construct the building according to departmental specifications and lease it to the post office department for a basic period of 20 years, with options to renew the lease for an additional ten years.

The department's capital investment will be limited substantially to postal equipment.

The building will remain under private ownership with the owner paying local real estate taxes. Postal space in the present unit will be made available for other purposes.

O'Brien Guilty In Shooting

Robert O'Brien, 29, who claimed the August 19 fatal shooting of his wife, Kathleen O'Brien, of 169 Avalon street, Daly City, was an accident was pronounced guilty of involuntary manslaughter by a jury of six men and six women in San Mateo County Superior Court.

Date for sentencing will be December 17.

The man who had jumped out of Mrs. O'Brien's house and broke both ankles, Stanley Ross, 31, of San Francisco, who had been dating Mrs. O'Brien, appeared in a wheelchair at the trial as a witness.

Two young children of the broken marriage saw their mother killed by a single shot fired from a .45 caliber gun in the hands of their father.

Mrs. O'Brien died at the curb in front of her home. Police said O'Brien drove up to the house about 11 a. m. with a friend, Eric Moncour of 405 Palmcrest, San Francisco, and parked on the wrong side of the street.

He picked up two of his four children, Kevin, 7, and Coleen, 4, and was to take them target shooting.

O'Brien said he, Moncour and the children were all in the front seat and he was talking with Mrs. O'Brien, who was standing on the curb. Then, he said, he reached under the front seat and took his .45 caliber pistol from a box, intending to put it under the back seat where the children couldn't reach it.

O'Brien had removed the ammunition clip, but had forgotten one bullet which remained in the weapon's chamber. As O'Brien shifted the automatic to the rear seat, it accidentally discharged. Mrs. O'Brien fell with a single bullet in her chest.

Mrs. O'Brien had filed suit for divorce last October in Santa Clara County.

Westlake CAP Officers Guide University Tour

Westlake resident Lt. Jeannett Adams and W/O Will Riley of Golden Gate Squadron 30, Civil Air Patrol, joined with 50 other cadets and officers in a tour of the major academic areas of the University of California recently.

Fifteen of the teen-aged cadets were from the Pacifica CAP Flight.

The group met at the Presidio of San Francisco and boarded a military bus that took them to the base of Cal's famed clock tower.

The group was met there by Capt. S. Grogan, assistant professor of Air Science, who arranged the tour to extend the aeroscope education program and engender an interest in higher education. The tour included a close look at the carrillon, the Sather tower, the Wheeler Hall athletic areas and gymnasiums.

The cadets also saw the Greek Theater and the Student Union and cafeteria. Cadet Jim Park of Westview expressed the thought of many of the cadets that this was the first close look at the university he hopes some day to attend.

After the tour ended, the group returned to the Presidio where they were guests of the Army Helicopter Operations Base. Here they learned about helicopter uses and Army applications of "choppers" in troop movements and peacetime operations.

Cadet recruit David Gavin was treated to a short ride over the Presidio and San Francisco Bay.

Polio Group Needs Marching Mothers

Thousands of letters to mothers of school children throughout San Mateo county have been distributed through the schools seeking added volunteers in the vital Mothers March phase of the 1963 March of Dimes, it was disclosed today.

The letter went out over the signature of Mrs. J. Burt Mills, county chairman of the Mothers March in 1963, together with the names of Mrs. L. E. Engleman, president of the Seventeenth district of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers in this county, and Mrs. Alvin Murphy, president for San Mateo county of the Catholic Parent-Teacher group.

Arrangements for the pupils to take the letter home to their mothers for "favorable consideration" on the 1963 Mothers March volunteers appeal were made by Mrs. J. L. Whetsel, coordinator of the event for the annual March of Dimes in January of the coming year, the announcement explained.

The mothers were advised in the letter that ". . . the March of Dimes made possible both the Salk and now the Sabin oral vaccine against polio," and pointed out that now that polio is all but a thing of the past, the March of Dimes is seeking to 'do likewise' on both birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, cripplers of many thousands each year, too."

"But funds must be raised to continue this vital health work," the letter emphasized, and asks that mothers ". . . join the nation-wide Mothers March and march in your own neighborhood. . ." for this public health cause.

The letter includes a coupon at the bottom of the page for mothers to sign, advising: "I will march in the Mothers March in my own neighborhood. . . "and gives a place for her signature, phone number and address, together with that of her child, and the child's school in San Mateo county.

Olympia PTA Schedule Enrichment Meetings

The Olympia PTA plans a new Parent Enrichment Program to answer puzzling questions about children and school. The first of these programs is Friday, November 30 from 10 to 11:30 a.m., and will concern the emotional, physical growth, and development of children at the elementary school level. Guest speakers will be Ray A. Graber, guidance consultant for the Jefferson Elementary School District, and Mrs. Helen Delafield, health and welfare co-ordinator.

The series will be varied and specifically designed to help answer the many questions parents have about their children in school. They will also explore their role as parents in relation to the school and education in general. Programs will consist of speakers, panels, and a great deal of group discussion.

It is the goal of this program to answer the needs of the parents and the educators in working together in gaining a better learning envirnonment for our children.

The Westmoor Rams—1962 NPL Champs

Coach Pete Matisi's powerful Westmoor Rams wrote a finis to the first North Peninsula League grid session last Friday afternoon when they swept past Terra Nova, 34-13, before a packed house at the hilltop campus.

The season-ender gave the Westmoor crew a perfect 5-0 record, a 7-2 overall record, and more important, the North Peninsula League title.

The game wasn't as one-sided as the score indicates. Coach Floyd Gonella's gridders from Terra Nova were in the contest all of the way until the last quarter. The loss, coupled with South San Francisco's loss to Jeff, gave the Tigers a tie for second place with a 3-2 record.

The Tigers, one of the surprises in the NPL this year, actually tied the Rams in total offense. Terra Nova wracked up a total of 294 as did Westmoor. But unfortunately for the Tiger rooters, it was the score which counted.

The Terra Nova gang was well schooled in the art of pass defense and stifled Westmoor's Bruce Hix, the Peninsula's leading passer, to a mere 52 yards. Hix, up to this game, had 903 yards in the air. The 52 yards he garnered gave him a total of 955 yards for the season.

But Matisi, seeing that the air waves were plugged, switched the versatile Ram attack to the ground and got splendid results. Fullback Dave Mahoney sped for 120 yards and halfback Mike DeBernardi ground out 89 yards.

DeBernardi scored first in the crucial as he plunged in from the one yard line following a 60 yard Ram drive.

Terra Nova came right back with quarterback Manuel Pick engineering a 62 yard drive. The magnificent Pick connected with end Bob Pettit on a 56 yard pass play which brought the ball down to the Westmoor seven yard line. Moments later, Pick scurried into the end zone from the four yard line to tie the score at 6-6.

The Tigers gained possession of the ball minutes later and the scene was set for one of the most controversial plays of the year. Pick passed to end Marty Coil, who, in turn, lateralled back to the barreling Fred Mason. Mason, with a full head of steam, dropped the ball and it bounced back up into his arms. On his way to an apparent touchdown, Mason was stopped by the referee's whistle. Later a referee came over to Gonella and told him "they had made a mistake." The misfortunate call seemed to take some of the starch out of the Tiger offense and they never really recovered after that.

Westmoor hit for two quick TDs with about three minutes left in the half, to pull away, 20-6. Hix skirted end from two yards out and Mahoney bulled his way in from the six yard line for the score.

The fired-up Matisimen, sensing the outright title within their grasp, scored twice more in the second half to wrap up one of the greatest seasons in Ram history. Hix scored in the third period on a six yard bootleg play and the diminutive DeBernardi snuck in from the two yard line in the fourth period to give the Rams a 34-6 advantage.

The Tigers scored once more before the final gun. Mason ripped in from the five yard line following a 57 yard scoring drive.

The Westmoor defense was led by Tony Thomas, DeBernardi, Steve Schmuck, Ron Baker and Mike Pignataro, all of whom contributed a large part to the victory.

Terra Nova's pass defense, which limited Hix to two completions, was led by Pick, and all around Dennis Caruthers. Caruthers also rushed for 91 yards and did the Tiger punting. Pick completed eight out of 15 passes for 105 yards.

the winner's circle

By GARRY NIVER

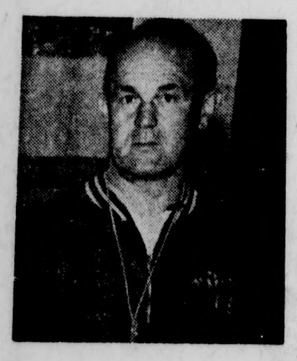
There is a rumor afoot that the traditional 38-year old prep grid rivalry between Daly City's Jefferson High School and South San Francisco High School may be dissolved.

Now, we are not the type to impede progress, but we think that such a move would prove nothing. The two schools have battled it out in a traditional since 1924 and many of the boys playing for the two schools now had fathers and even grandfathers play in the "Big Game."

The Jeff-South SF clash is the oldest on the Peninsula and certainly one of the most exciting, regardless of how good or bad either team is rated. This was evident last Friday night when Coach Joe McGrath's Indians from Mission street, rated two-touchdown underdogs, got up to upset the Warriors 26-20. It was Jefferson's best game in two years.

The two schools started de-emphasizing the famed grid classic in 1957. Prior to that time it had been the traditional Thanksgiving Day game, replete with rallies, queens and rooting-section trophies.

In those early clashes it was almost impossible to get a seat in the house if you came late. The 6,000 capacity Clifford field would be filled up by the 1:30 p.m. game-time and scores of fans would line the field on a standing room basis.



MIKE ORLICH
. . . Quite Optimistic

In 1957 the game was switched to Thanksgiving Eve and attendance dropped off slighly. Then in 1960 the organizers switched the tilt to the Friday night prior to Thanksgiving. The change relieved the game of considerable attendance and some of the lustre of a festive holiday grid game was lost in the shuffle.

This year there was no rooters trophy. Miss Rue Clifford, a former SSF teacher, whom Clifford Field is named after, was named the Big Game queen. But it was a very shabbily conducted affair and, although we sat next to Miss Clifford during the game, we didn't learn about it until the next day.

And despite her honor, the title must have been a little sad for Miss Clifford. The dedicated Warrior fan has missed very few games in the last 38 years at South SF and has seen the stands filled to capacity many times. Now the rivalry is becoming more remote and I expect, if one can believe rumors, that this was the final "Big Game" between Jefferson and South San Francisco.

Maybe such a move is for the best. If the two schools can't conduct the prep classic better than they have in the past two years, they should terminate it.

Breaking tradition is always sad for us and we are sure that it is for many other people. South SF and Daly City have grown a lot since 1924. Old South

EC Ends On Sweet Note

It was a long hard season, but it was worth it. The El Camino Colts from South San Francisco fought through seven bitter contests, losing six and tieing one, before they gained the reward for their perseverance and dedication.

Coach Tom McCormick's gridders, in their first year of varsity competition, finally hit the winner's circle as they outran the Ocean Sharks, 19-0, in the season's finale at Oceana last Friday afternoon.

The Sharks, as the Colts were; had yet to win a game.

Halfback John LaSota found the Oceana defense to his liking and piled up 152 yards in rushing on 27 carries for a scintillating 5.6 average.

LaSota opened up the scoring with a 20 yard scoring jaunt in the first period. The speedy halfback came back in the second quarter with a two yard scoring run. Mike Stauffer ran over the PAT to give the South San Francisco crew a 13-0 halftime lead.

Stauffer scored the final TD in the second stanza when he bumped over from the four yard line. Workhorse Walt Harris also had a good day as he sped for 40 yards in 13 carries.

Stauffer collected 27 yards and fullback Bruce Castellanos ground out 21 yards.

Bob Casbie was the top Oceana rusher with 54 yards in 13 carries for a 4.1 average. Reliable Tom Summy gathered 43 yards on the ground for the losers.

The victors were led on defense by Russ Lee, Ernie Trisette and Harris.

Both El Camino and Oceana were composed of sopohomores and juniors this year, and both were in their first year of varsity competition.

Hole-In-One At Cypress Hills

Jere Montaug, 260 Chiquita avenue, Apt. 1, Mountain View, reached golfdom's pinnancle last week when he aced the 218-yard ninth hole at Colma's Cypress Hills Golf Course.

Montaug used a brassie-wood to perform the feat. Witnesses were Jack Greehall, John Medan and Segundo Aloboda.

Vikings Top Franklin Intramural League

Last week the intra-mural football championship was decided when the Room 44 Vikings, American League Champs, squared off for the grid pennant.

Scoring opened when John Anderson caught Ken Smith, Charger quarterback, in the end zone for two points. That was all the scoring for the first half.

In the third quarter, quarterback Greg Agar threw a pass to halfback Jack Lanning for a score. The conversion, a pass from Agar to end Scott Ghilarducci, gave the Vikings a 9-0 lead.

With eight minutes left in the game halfback Bruce Brinkerhoff intercepted an Agar pass and ran back for a score. This was all the scoring in the game and the football pennant went to the Vikings 9-6.

'New' SSF Dragster Seeks World Title

One of the top events of the 1962 Drag racing season will take place this Sunday, November 25, at Half Moon Bay when the Champion Speed Shop Special from South San Francisco will attempt to break the world's drag racing speed record.

The second-ranked car, built by Jim McClennan of Daly City, will be running with the new Master and Richter engine from the number one dragster in the nation. The change of engines is being completed this week and the car will be ready by Sunday.

The Master and Richter engine has churned up speeds up to 189 miles per hour in the quarter, which is the current world's record.

Owners of the Champion dragster feel that the fast engine, combined with the sleek, speedy Champion Special chassis, should top the 190 mph mark this Sunday.

Driven by South SF's Sammy Hale, the new innovated Speed Shop Special will make its appearance on the Half Moon Bay asphalt at 2 p.m. in a series of run-offs at near super-sonic speeds.

The activity laden drag racing card will also feature the top stocks and super-stocks of Northern California this Sunday.

Gates at the famed West Coast strip open at 8 a.m., with eliminations scheduled for the afternoon. Grandstands, free parking and refreshments are available at the strip.

The Half Moon Bay Drag Strip is located 26 miles south of San Francisco on Coast Highway One. All events are sanctioned by the National Hotrod Association.

Jefferson's 1962 Co-Champion Cagers

Jeff Stuns SSF In Finale, 26-20

If the Jefferson Indians played all of their games at night, they might be the champions. Coach Joe McGrath's Jeff gridders concluded their rather dismal 1962 season on a successful note last Friday as they upset the highly regarded South San Francisco Warriors, 26-20.

It was the Indians only night game of the season and the fifth time in six years that they have upset the South City crew under the arcs at Clifford Field.

It was a nippy night in South San Francisco last Friday night with a large gold moon piercing the blackness in the East — a perfect night for football.

And it was even more perfect for the Jeff rooters. Up until this time the only team which they had beaten this year was lowly Oceana. But Joe McGrath's crew from Mission street put together one of the best collective efforts seen on the Peninsula this year to stun the Warriors and their faithful followers.

The Jeff win gave them a 2-2-1 league record and a 3-4-1 overall record. The upset also knocked the Warriors out of undisputed second place, giving them a 3-2 loop record.

As far as the Daly City rooters are concerned, it was a successful season. Following the final gun, a crowd of fans and players soared towards the elated McGrath and lifted him to their shoulders in an impressive and very emotional ceremony. The likable mentor was all smiles and tears as he rode the shoulders of players and rooters out of the Clifford Field stadium.

The game opened up like it was expected—South San Francisco roared out to a 13-0 lead. Halfback Jim Shutz started the scoring with a 14 yard off-tackle scoring burst with 50 seconds left in the first period.

The blue and white hosts bagged the 13-0 lead in the second period when Shutz again scored, this time on a dramatic 18 yard jog up the middle. Fullback Steve Balopulos converted.

Suddenly the Indians came to life. The defense tightened, the blocking was hard and final, and the Indian backs zoomed through the large holes on nimble feet.

Jeff halfback Rod Harper found an opening and flashed 64 yards to the SSF three yard line. Three plays later, fullback Larry Ahuna boomed in from the one yard line. SSF commanded the 13-6 halftime score.

The revitalized Indians came out in the second half roaring like a lion. Quarterback Rod Fisicaro culminated a 60 yard scoring drive by sneaking over from the two yard line.

The Warriors came back with their final score when Shutz went around right end for 15 yards. Balopulos converted to give SSF a 20-12 lead.

The Indians came back to make it 20-19 when halfback Ed Nathan journeyed 11 yards up the middle. Ahuna cracked over for the PAT, and the scene was set for the dramatic finish.

With two minutes left in the contest, the Indian defense, led by Daryl Crist, Al Lonstrom, Rich Waller, Armando Cadena and Ahuna, stopped the Blue and White dead on the Jeff 11.

The brazen victors then took off up field on a dramatic 87-yard march, tearing off ten and 12 yard chunks at a crack. With 50 seconds left in the game, Ahuna slipped in from the two yard line for the winning TD. Fisicaro ran the PAT over for the 26-20 win.

The Indians rolled up a fantastic 305 yards in the ground. Harper led all rushers with 97 yards. Halfback Leo Gotelli had 70 yards and halfback Don Letcavage racked up 64 yards. End Rich Waller grabbed in three aerials for 50 yards, including a crucial 29 yarder from Nathan in the final drive.

More Winner's Circle

SF is now surrounded by rows and rows of track homes and Daly City is now known more for Westlake than for its old part.

But residents who have resided in this area for many years have developed an affinity towards their cities and to conclude the Jeff-South San Francisco traditional would sever one of the last links connecting the old with the new. It is a needless move.

Don't you agree?

ON THE SIDELINES... The South San Francisco Frosh-Soph grid eleven, coached by Nick Crusick and Bob Warfield, went undefeated in the NPL this year and nabbed the title. One of the stars for the junior Warriors is Carl Olson, Jr., whose father is former middleweight champ Carl "Bobo" Olson, Sr. The younger Olson is one of the finest prep punters around.

Another local grid star with quite an athletic lineage is Russ Lee of El Camino High School. The husky youngster, one of coach Tom McCormick's top linemen and an honor student at the new S. S. F. school, comes from quite an athletic family.

Young Russ's father, George Lee, Sr., was a catcher for the old San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast League. His older brother, George, Jr., was a baseball and grid star for San Francisco's Poly High School and South San Francisco High School.

More Spare Time

Vito Serafini was a repeat leader with a 189 high game and 529 series.

Eve Balma rolled the first two hundred game of her career when she shot 202 in the Corpus Christi Mothers' Club League. High series title went to Doris Choate with 471 while Vi Sylvia converted the "almost impossible" 6-7-10 split.

The Daly City Employees League almost produced a Six Hundred Club member last week as Steve Demestresch shot a 235 game and a big 583 series.

Myrtle Grassel who makes a habit of shooting high games, again led the Westlake Keglerettes in this department with a 188 game. Sara Sallein missed the five hundred mark by one pin but led the high series parade with a 499 series. The Keglerettes broke some sort of a record when they converted ten difficult splits as Lee Johnson led with the 5-6 and 5-7 9 followed by Wanda Milani, Mary Connick and Mary Lawson with the 3-10, Edna Cregan with the 5-7, Mary Miller with the 7-9, Flo Misrack with the 5-10, Anne Ikler with the 5-6 and Mary Baremore with the 4-5-7.

Eric Erickson of the Standard Oil League set the pace last week with a tremendous 657 series on games of 222-234 and 201. His series set a new mark for the Oilers for the current season.

Judy Nelson and Pat Murray were the brightest lights last Monday night as Judy led the Evening Stars with a 202 game and 528 series while Pat led the Starlighters with 177 and 480.

Fifteen year old Paul Biancalana is the toast of the Junior Bowlers after shooting a tremendous 681 scratch series in the Westlake Junior singles. After a 237 first game, Paul came back with a strong 210 second game. After starting with a spare then five consecutive strikes, in the third game, a possible 700 series was in sight, only to be shot down by a spare in the seventh and a split in the ninth frames. After a tenth frame spare, he threw a perfect strike on his last ball for a 224 game. This is the highest series for a bowler of fifteen years and under. Bob Cowan holds the Junior record with a 686 series.

The Westlake Wedlocks league continues to post many of the high scores as Joe Masetti came in with a 236 game and 600 series while Bob Schwndt shot 224 and 594 and Ez Gesell posted a 198 game and 548 series.

Westlake ladies are making plans for the annual "Fashions on the Lanes" Luncheon and Fashion Show which is scheduled for Thursday, December 6. Sponsored by the North San Mateo YWCA, fashions will be by Jay Vee and the Westlake Bowl. Rseervations may be made by calling PL 6-7370.

The American Masters 900 Scratch League showed six members over the 600 mark as Sam Kosmidies led the field with games of 192-235 and 223 for a 650 total. Tied at 615 were Tom Franza with a 223 high game and Dave Lorin with a best effort of 231.

Franklin Gridders Whip Alta Loma

Benjamin Franklin traveled to Alta Loma School in South San Francisco last week, with the seventh grade winning 21-0 and the eighth prevailing 20-6.

In the seventh grade game quarterback George Garber, on the first play from scrimmage, ran 55 yards around right end for a touchdown. The conversion failed. In the second quarter Garber threw a pass to end Grady Proctor in the end zone for another six points and Garber ran the conversion over for 2 points. At half time Benjamin Franklin led 14-0. In the third quarter Garber again scored from 10 yards out and passed to Proctor for the conversion.

Robert Giorgetti made several outstanding catches during the game to help set up Benjamin Franklin's scoring opportunities. Wayne Smith, Dennis Smith and Lance De Roo were immovable on defense. Vic Yerby, Don Piercy and George Polis combined for an airtight defensive backfield. Other players were: Joe and George Anible, Grant Easley, John Arabian, Marion Rizzo, Jim Lanning, Rich Witcher, Jack Eichelberger, Pat Elston, Phil Gleebow, Marty Cloonan, Randy Lee, Kevin Pringle and Joe Williamson.

In the eighth grade game Benjamin Franklin took the kick-off, and on their third play from scrimmage, quarterback David Pucci hit end Greg Agar in the end zone for a touchdown. In the second quarter reserve quarterback Joe Weinberg threw to Agar in the end zone for another score. The conversion was missed. Agar caught the Alta Loma quarterback in the end zone just before the half ended for a safety and Benjamin Franklin led at halftime 14-0.

In the third, quarterback Nick Buddea hit end David Pucci in the end zone from 10 yards out for Benjamin Franklin's final touchdown.

Other players for Benjamin Franklin were: Jim Dennis, Val Sabucco, Jerry Verducci, Reed Rosenberg, Steve Pollack, Mike Silvestri, Dave Reed, Rich Wilson, Kimo Sherbert and Frank Estacopio.

Sires Wins UAL Tournament At Cypress Hills

Mrs. Kenneth Roberts grabbed the low net honors at the Cypress Hills golf course in last Thursday's Ladies' Day turkey shoot. Mrs. Donald Mix was second, and Mrs. Harry Rasmussen was third.

Other winners were Mrs. Douglas Leone, Mrs. Frank Howell and Mrs. Raymond Coyne.

The compact Dodge Dart for 1963 has a total of nine models, including two convertible styles.

A new backing plate has been added to the front brakes of the new Cadillacs to improve sealing under wet and dusty driving conditions.

SEA BOWL NEWS

The one day fund raising event will feature a "flea Market" under the guidance as chairman of Mrs. Thomas Moran. This will enable all who attend to purchase the gifts for the person "who has everything."

Mrs. Robert Owens of San Carlos is general chairman and has announced that the doors will be open at 9 a.m. and business will be conducted till 7 p.m. Tickets at $1.00 per person may be obtained at the door or by calling reservations chairman, Mrs. Peter Fagan, at DI 3-5791. Refreshments will be served throughout the day under the guidance of Mrs. H. N. Stronck. Many door prizes will be awarded during the day.

Both young and old will enjoy the professional cake decorating done at the "Gourmet Booth" and anyone wishing to bring their own cake will have a courtesy decoration. This booth will be supervised by Mrs. John Loretz and Mrs. Charles Creighton. Each recipe will be enclosed with the purchase at the gourmet booth.

Mrs. Edward Molkenbuhr, Jr. president of the organization, will chairman the "trim the tree shop." This booth will show many types of ornaments and will delight the person who takes pride in the appearance of the Christmas tree.

Colorful Christmas stockings as well as all shapes of gifts to fit the "sock" will be on sale at Mrs. Rene Casenave's booth, entitled the "stocking stuffer booth." Santa's toy shop speaks for itself. Dolls of all sizes as well as from all over the world will be displayed in this shop.

Mrs. Ronald Speckman announces that beautiful clothes and expert workmanship by many auxiliary members have gone into the hand made dolls. Mechanical as well as educational toys for all ages will also be featured. The Glamour Booth will be chairmaned by Mrs. Adolph Pahl.

Mrs. Warren Gabrielli, in charge of the candle booth, has assured all who visit her booth that they will find just the right size and just the perfect gift for any room in the house.

Mrs. Faxon Bishop and her committee will sell ribbons, tags, cards, paper, glittering decorations and bright bows.

All these decorations, gifts and toys will be sold for the one day only benefit. The Catholic Social Service will use the proceeds to help those less fortunate in the county at Christmas time. This is a chance to have "happy shopping," a pleasant day and aid to a worthy cause.

Protestant Missions Status Sermon Nov. 25

What is the status of Protestant missions in the West Indian Islands today? Is Communism threatening Haiti and the surrounding countries in the Carribean? Is the radio as an effective means of reaching the masses the answer to this problem?

Considerable light will be shed on these and other questions by Rev. David Hartt, veteran missionary to Haiti, when he speaks at the Morning Worship Hour, 11 a.m., Sunday morning , November 25, at the Westside Baptist Church in South San Francisco.

At the 9:45 a.m. Sunday School Hour, Rev. Hartt will show colored slides of the work among the Haitians. This Sunday, November 25, is the last day of the "Over the Goal" contest at Westside Baptist Sunday School. At this hour, the Junior High and Senior High Conference Youth Fellowship groups are meeting also.

The Evening Gospel Hour meets at 7 p.m., at which time the pastor will be speaking on the topic, "Believers Baptism." This is a further message in the series on Baptist Beliefs. Special music for this service will be provided by the pastor and Alton Swedberg, who will sing a duet. Opportunity is given during the congregational sing time for those present to choose their favorite song or chorus and have it sung. ## Westlake Auto Show Proves A Huge Success

The sixth annual Westlake Auto Show held last week in the Westlake Shopping Center was enjoyed by thousands of prospective buyers who came to kick, pull, look, feel and compare some fifty models of the 1963 cars on display, and there was something for everyone, from sports car enthusiasts to the comfort luxury class.

Twelve area dealers participated and one spokesman for the show said, "Each year this show increases in size and popularity. The public's taste and knowledge of automobiles as to quality, price and engineering becomes more exacting. We are very pleased with the show's success."

NEWS of the industry

Studebaker, the only one of the five major American car makers that does not use unitized construction in any volume car assembly, predicts that other firms will return to the separate body-frame construction. According to Studebaker, its body-frame cars are three times less expensive to repair and are cheaper to insure than unitized cars. But there are some weighty disadvantages to body-frame cars too, among them: They are less rigid, more prone to develop squeaks and rattles, and generally heavier than unitized cars.

Buick's aluminum V-8 which bowed as a 155 bhp unit in 1961 will be boosted to 200 bhp for '63, an increase of ten units over the '62 rating for Skylark options.

Chevrolet says its owner loyalty, at a low about three years ago, has been restored through efforts to have owners completely satisfied with the product and service. Their '62 sales would indicate success of the campaign.

Take your pick: Domestic car shoppers will be able to look over 408 individually priced new car models for 1963. More will be added as 1963½s.

Rambler is shooting for a 20-25 per cent sales gain in 1963: 550,000 domestic and 70,000 foreign sales.

United States exports of motor vehicles during the first six months of 1962 totaled 168,511, down from 1961 because of a drop in truck and bus exports. Imports for the same period amounted to 192,718 units.

In the next few weeks, Renault will spend $500,000 to advertise its new R-8 sedan, the '63 Dauphine and Caravelle "S" convertible. Their 1963 advertising budget will top two million dollars. ### Hot Water Geyser

A hot water geyser that erupts every four hours and six minutes is to be found near Lakeview, Ore., according to the National Automobile Club.

Amateur Inventors

If your teen-age son should decide that there's something lacking on the family car and that he can fix that lack by adding a new gadget, don't protest too strongly.

He may, points out the National Automobile Club, be doing his part to create some little gem of design for the car of tomorrow.

Thousands of enterprising mechanics, equipped with little more than a good idea and a few worn tools, have contributed their part to the car of today, and that windshield wiper, speedometer, self-starter, horn, heater, and bumper were all added gadgets before they were parts of the permanent design.

Efficiency and Economy

It is much better to take depreciation a little at a time than all at once, points out the National Automobile Club.

The car owner who takes depreciation all at once allows inefficiencies in performance to accumulate to a point where a real, complete overhaul is necessary.

The owner who prefers the other method of absorbing depreciation takes the car to the service station regularly or himself remedies the minor maladies as they develop.

Considering the infinitely better performance at smaller cost that this system nets, the other is a false economy that should be avoided.

Approved Smog Devices Motor Vehicles

SAN BERNARDINO — The State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board determined here recently that California's used car population be equipped with crankcase control devices as soon as two or more can be approved.

Previously, the Board had considered that installation of these devices should become mandatory only when exhaust devices were required on used cars.

However, the Board felt that with the amount of contamination contributed by automobile engines (30% of the car total) and the rapid progress in crankcase device development, it should proceed with this phase of its program immediately to speed the return of clean air to California.

Two companies, AC Spark Plug and Walker Manufacturing, came forward at the meeting with crankcase systems they claim are adaptable to the majority of used cars in California. The Board heard a staff report on installation and cost of these devices. Formal action is scheduled for the MVPCB's next meeting, Dec. 18, in Los Angeles.

At the same time the Board ordered the staff to develop test procedures for exhaust devices for heavier trucks and buses. Dr. J. B. Askew of San Diego, MVPCB chairman, said this was being done so that controls would be ready for these vehicles at the same time as those for passenger cars. He pointed out that the larger trucks and buses emit proportionately more contaminants than passenger vehicles.

The Board went on to approve three more crankcase devices for factory installation, bringing to a total of 15 those now approved by the State for new cars. Those ok'd were from Walker Manufacturing Co., British Motor Corp. and International Harvester Co.

Dr. Askew announced that a seventh exhaust device, from Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing, had been accepted for official State testing. He said that exhaust controls from five companies are now on 115 automobiles for fleet and life testing.

The Board moved to seek several legislative changes which would allow it to approve engine modifications as well as devices or systems and to withdraw certifications.

Dr. Askew announced the resignation of Robert Osborne, Oakland City Councilman, as a MVPCB member. No successor has yet been chosen.

Gearshift

The steering column gearshift became popular in 1939, reports the National Automobile Club.

Slow Down

Slow down at sundown, advises the National Automobile Club.

Four Thousand Italian Workers Helping to Build Volkswagens

Some 4,000 Italian workers have moved into Wolfsburg to form what one Cologne newspaper called the biggest Italian settlement north of the Brenner Pass.

Ten years ago, such an influx of "foreign" labor would have been unheard of; today it is accepted in the most human terms as 210,000,000 Europeans begin to fit their lives into the realities of an economically integrated Europe.

Will Return

Perhaps not any of these Italians will stay beyond the terms of their contracts, most of which run 12 months. The ties of their homeland are still strong; most have families waiting for them to return. But when these leave, others will take their place and the rotation will continue as the labor shortage persists and there are Volkswagens to be built.

The workers, recruited by the Italian government from the industrially poor south could just as easily have chosen to go to Rotterdam, Cologne or Milan. Many of their fellows did. All of them have heard that they can make a lot more money in European factories than on the farms of southern Italy. They all search for the better life; a car, a better house, better clothes, and education for their children. Like workers the world over, they will sell their labors to the highest bidder.

Care Provided

While they live in Wolfsburg, these Italians live in prefabricated two-story dormitories built just for them.

Three workers share a room and pay 1 DM (about a quarter) a day rent. The dorms have all facilities, including a well-stocked canteen where they can economically buy tomatoes, macaroni, olive oil and other ingredients of their tasty national dishes. Medical and dental care is supplied free.

Getting Acquainted

They arrive by train—on a car made up especially for them. The new workers are given a welcoming talk and shown slides of how Volkswagens are made. Particular emphasis is placed on familiarizing them with the departments in which they will be working, such as the paint shop, body shop, final assembly and the foundry.

They are told they can earn an average wage of 600 DM a month and are given an illustrated Italian-German dictionary that lists the most important parts and tools as well as translations of safety signs.

Noticeably lacking in the dictionary is the German equivalent for the Italian Amore, but the visitors seem to get along without this translation and there are no behavior problems.

Every effort is made to accommodate the visiting workers. They have an Italian cook (one for each dormitory) and an Italian priest from nearby Hanover officiates at Sunday Mass.

The workers firmly rejected one move to help them. The factory had proposed that the workers' wages be transferred directly to their home banks, but the workers answered with a "resounding "No."

They want the money in their hands, and the pleasure of going to the post office, converting into lire and sending it home personally.

After work, the men are often seen strolling along Porsche street. Many use the "shopping German" they have studied on their own, but others can buy in Italian as increasing numbers of Wolfsburg shop keepers have taken up "Italiano commerciale" demonstrated by signs in store windows that read: "Italian is spoken here."

that position he was appointed to supervisor of gauge procurement in 1943, transferring to the personnel department in 1944 as an investigator. He was named a labor relations representative that same year.

In March 1954, Cutler became assistant director of labor relations, and was made director of labor relations in 1960.

A year later he was named assistant director of personnel and held that position until this appointment.

Oldsmobile For 1963

LANSING: Oldsmobile customers throughout the nation have taken delivery of more new Oldsmobiles since the division's 1963 model introductory date than in any similar period in the company's history, it was announced today by Jack F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile's general manager and a vice president of General Motors.

"A strong first period in November," Wolfram said, "coupled with the best October we've ever had, has resulted in anunequalled sales volume of 71,291 Oldsmobile F-85's, 88's, 98's and Starfires in the four tenday sales periods following our October 4 public announcement date.

"For the calendar year so far," he added, "Oldsmobile sales are 38 per cent higher than a year ago."

Wolfram reported sales in the period of November 1-10 at 16,388 units, including 3,429 F-85's and 12,959 full-size Oldsmobiles.

"THE AUTO GAME"

Some 55 years ago, new makes of motor vehicles were cropping up all over the United States.

Almost every city of any size, reports the National Automobile Club, showed up in the list of communities that fostered hopeful entries in "the auto game," as it was then known.

A total of 97 makes appeared in the roster of new names displayed in the auto shows that were staged early in 1907. This contrasted with 2 new makes in 1906 and 43 in 1905.

Then, in October of 1907, a run on a New York City bank touched off a panic and scores of hopeful enterprisers in this new industry toppled into oblivion. As business in general recovered in 1908, it was noticed that a few of the youthful automobile manufacturing companies had not only weathered the panic exceptionally well but had piled up healthy records as profit-makers. The banking fraternity took a second look and by 1912 "the auto game" was becoming a recognized industry, with stock listings on Wall street.

Scores of new makes of automobiles and trucks appeared each year in the five years after the panic. Then, in the spring of 1913 a series of great floods swept through Ohio and Indiana and many of the auto factories that had sprung up in these states were so hard hit by this disaster that they never recovered.

World War I was the next great event that proved disastrous to many of the hopeful enterprisers in the automobile industry. One of the first groups affected adversely was the scores of cyclecar manufacturers who had launched into business in 1913 and early 1914, but who were almost all out of business by the end of the latter year.

The shock of the war's beginning late that summer caused a collapse of stock prices and, by the time general business recovery had been achieved late in 1915, material shortages were beginning to afflict some of the weaker firms in the automotive industry.

At the end of the war there was again an upsurge in the number of new companies and new makes, with the postwar depression of 1921 sending scores of firms to the graveyard.

Thereafter, there was a steady annual decline in the number of new makes of motor vehicles offered each year. And, of the rather long list of makes still in existence in 1929, the great depression of the 1930s took its toll, with a few more companies disappearing under the impact of material shortages brought on by World War II.

Chevrolet '63 Styling

Offering 33 models in four separate categories—each aimed at a specific segment of the market — the 1963 cars from Gateway Chevrolet, Daly City Chevrolet dealer, represent faith in a continued strong national economy by Chevrolet, which is already on its way to setting an all-time industry sales record for 1962.

There are significant styling changes in the regular Chevrolets, a continuation of their unique automotive personalities by the Chevy II and the Corvair, the two entirely new bodies and a new chassis for the Corvette sports car. All models have significant mechanical improvements.

Regular Chevrolets

The traditional big car emphasis upon luxurious transportation is continued in the 1963 regular Chevrolets, offered in 13 models in the Impala, Bel Air and Biscayne series.

There is a sleek, longer look with all-new styling. Straight windshield pillars improve access for driver and passengers. The new front grille of anodized aluminum extends the full width of the vehicle, while a depressed center area adds new interest to the broad rear deck lid.

A new six-cylinder 140 horsepower engine, higher in horsepower and yet 23 per cent lighter than its 1962 counterpart, teams with a revised 238 cubic inch V-8 and five other V-8 engines to offer engines ranging from 140 to 425 horsepower.

Chevy II

In its second year on the market, Chevy II continues the basic styling of the previous model with new exterior and interior appointments. There are ten models in three series.

For 1963, Chevy II offers super sport options on its Nova 400 sport coupe and convertible, featuring bucket seats and all-vinyl interiors. Fifteen solid colors and 11 two-tone combinations are available on Chevy II models.

Longer-life mufflers are standard on all models. Radios are completely transistorized.

Corvair

Chevrolet's distinctive small car enters its fourth year on the market with an ever-growing following among those who want a sports car feel in a less expensive car.

Styling changes are confined to ornamentations and molding details. Otherwise, America's first rear engine car continues its unique personality with eight models.

Corvette

In its tenth year on the market, America's only production sports car is redesigned and re-engineered for the first time. In addition to the convertible (with optional hardtop) model offered in the past, there is a new "fast-back" sport coupe.

Design Authorities Hail Crisp New Styling of Chrysler Cars for 1963

The 1963 Chrysler with an entirely new and crisp sculptured look of elegance is on display in dealer showrooms.

Along with this fashionable new look, much more is new in the 1963 Chrysler—new body structure, new brakes, new engine options, new economy features, new interiors and new, improved passenger roominess, safety and comfort.

"We have been told by architects and design authorities in many fields that the 1963 Chrysler embodies the best of contemporary design and is in many ways a leader in this area," C. E. Briggs, Chrysler Corporation vice president and general manager of the Chrysler-Plymouth Div., said.

"However, while we have made a distinctive appearance change in Chrysler we have retained the traditional big car appeal and engineering which has seen Chrysler register continuous sales gains over the past four years," Mr. Briggs said. In 1963 Chrysler maintains its policy of building only full-size cars.

Also new is a warranty for five years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, to cover the major power train components on all 1963 Chrysler automobiles sold in the United States and Canada. Chrysler is the first of the medium price cars to offer such extended owner protection.

MODEL LINE-UP

Chrysler retains its model line-up which proved so successful in 1962. The Newport, a full-sized, lower-priced car, will be offered as a 4-door sedan, 2- and 4-door hardtop, convertible coupe and 6 and 9-passenger station wagon. The 300 series, a popular entry in the growing performance sports car market, will have three body styles, 2- and 4-door hardtops and a convertible coupe. The New Yorker, built for the motorist who wants the ultimate in medium price car luxury, will offer a 4-door sedan, a 4-door hardtop, and 6- and 9-passenger wagons. A Chrysler 300J will be introduced later this year.

ELEGANT EXTERIORS

Uncluttered, sharp lines impart a crisp look of tasteful richness to the 1963 Chrysler. The car has a new distinctive single roof panel for both sedans and hardtop models. Another styling feature of the Chrysler is the wide C-pillars and limousine-type rear window.

Each of the three Chrysler models has its own individual grille. Horizontally arranged headlamps replace the canted headlamps of the past three years.

NEW INTERIOR LOOK

Chrysler interiors are significantly new for 1963. There is a totally new instrument panel, new high quality, appearance-improved seat materials and designs, and roomier interiors on two-door body models.

The simplicity of the new instrument panel styling complements the graceful exterior styling. Instruments have been grouped for maximum ease of reading by the driver. Two new standard features are introduced on the instrument panel for 1963 —a trip odometer and passenger assist handle.

MORE SEAT SPACE

Seat and door panel designs are new, and fabric colors and patterns are enhanced for 1963. The luxury of soft garnish is the feature of all door panels this year. Individually adjustable bucket seats with a fixed center section and folding arm rest are standard on 300 convertibles and two-door hardtops and on New Yorker station wagons, optional on four-door hardtops. On all two-door models in all lines, the rear seat space has increased by 3.6 inches due to the relocation of the seat in this body style. There is increased leg room in the front for the middle passenger due to the reduction in size of the center hump.

FOUR ENGINES OFFERED

The powerplant for the Newport is the 361-cubic-inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetor. The 300 has a 383-cubic-inch V-8 with two-barrel carburetor. The New Yorker retains the 413-cubic-inch V-8 with single four-barrel carburetor.

A new optional engine is being offered for the 300 sports series. It is a 413-cubic-inch V-8 with a single four-barrel carburetor. It is designed for outstanding performance plus smooth and economical operation. The new powerplant provides more power at high speeds and even greater agility at low speeds. It has a high performance camshaft, special valve springs and dampers and large dual exhausts.

STANFORD ROOTERS READY FOR BIG GAME FESTIVITIES

Annual Big Game Week activities began at Stanford University on Monday with time out for the Thanksgiving holiday Thursday.

Today is Axe Day. An effigy of "Oskie," University of California mascot, will be carried up Lasuen street in a "bearial" procession to a noontime rally in front of the post office.

Burn the Bear Day begins Friday morning when frosh men rollout to begin construction of a three-story bonfire in the dry bed of Lake Lagunita.

A 6:30 p.m. rally on the boathouse dock precedes the bonfire, featuring the Stanband, cheer leaders, pompon girls, Coach Jack Curtice and Prince Lightfoot, the Stanford mascot.

"Big Game Gaieties," saticical musical review, opens a four-day run in Memorial Auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Tuesday. Its final performance on Friday is delayed until 9:30 p. m. because of the bonfire.

Kickoff time is 1:30 p. m. Saturday in Berkeley's Memorial Stadium. Stanford has won 26 times, California 28 times. There have been ten tie games.

Stanford medical alumni plan open house, grand rounds, meetings, and election of alumni officers Friday at Stanford Medical School.

The Medical School class of 1937 will hold its 25th reunion in conjunction with a general luncheon Friday at the Palo Alto Cabana Hotel, 4290 El Camino Real. Class of 1912 members will be special guests.

Seven Stanford classes—1922, 1927, 1937, 1942, 1947 and 1957—will hold reunions Friday night in San Francisco, where they will be serenaded by the Stanford band.

Classes of 1937 and 1957 will stage a postgame dinner-dance Saturday in Peacourt Court of the Mark Hopkins Hotel.

Fallout Slight In Bay Area

Radioactive fallout in Daly City and the Bay Area has been surprisingly slight this summer and fall, although a general increase in airborne radioactivity was recorded during the period from October 18 to 24, according to Dr. Malcolm H. Merrill, state health director.

He said radioactivity peaked between October 18 and 24, with levels decreasing since then. The maximum daily readings were as follows, in micromicrocuries per cubic meter of air:

Bakersfield, 26; Bay Area, 45; Donner Summit, 31; El Centro, 56; Eureka, 19; Fresno, 20; Los Angeles, 37; Redding, 43; Sacramento, 33; Salinas, 40; San Bernardino, 72; San Diego, 56, and Santa Rosa, 57.

Through the summer and fall, said Dr. Merrill, radioactivity in air for all parts of the state has averaged less than 10 micromicrocuries per cubic meter.

Until last month, there has been no measurable iodine-131 in California milk since December a year ago. In October, iodine-121 was identified in milk samples from three counties, Humboldt, Mendocino and Del Norte. The October averages in this north central region, in micromicrocuries per liter of milk, were: Del Norte, 75; Humbolt, 15; and Mendocino, 10.

Strontium-90 levels in milk have decreased gradually, he added. Only in the far northwestern part of the state was there a significant increase in stronium-90, and that was in the spring, when it reached a monthly pak of 34 micromicrocuries per liter in May, declining steadily since.

Dr. Merrill said his report on radioactivity is based on analysis of data being obtained continually through the health department's statewide environmental radiological surveillance program, the most extensive in the nation.

He said these levels are much lower than those for most of the country, and far below levels at which any immediate action is considered necessary to protect public health.

"In view of the amount of atmospheric testing that apparently has occurred since last spring," Dr. Merrill observed, "we must consider it a fortunate circumstance that quantities have been so small."

He continued: "We will continue to watch the total fallout picture in California most carefully, and any significant change will be reported to the public.

"I would continue to urge that no one change dietary patterns or other living habits because of radioactive fallout. If any such changes should become necessary to protect the health of our people, this will be made immediately and widely known," Dr. Merrill concluded.

October Employment Shows New Increase

Civilian employment in California set a new October record and unemployment was substantially under a year ago, two state agencies report.

Total employment at 6,485,000 represented an increase of 211,000 or 3.4 per cent, from October, 1961, Margaret R. O'Grady, Director of Industrial Relations, announced. One-third of the over-the-year gain was in manufacturing, which continued to reflect strong growth in electronics and missiles. All other major divisions except agriculture also contributed to the increase from October, 1961.

Between September and October, employment declined in accordance with the usual pattern at this time of the year. The drop of 58,000 over th month was traceable primarily to a shary seasonal contraction in agriculture following unusually high employment in September.

At 1,460,000, manufacturing was down from the month earlier but, nevertheless, chalked up a new October record. The loss from September was concentrated in seasonal food processing.

The principal month-to-month rise occurred in government, which moved to an all-time high as schools continued to add to their staffs. A nominal advance in services also resulted in record employment in this division.

Unemployment was 312,000 in October, down 11,000 from September and 41,000 from October last year. This was announced by Irving H. Perluss, Director of Employment, who noted the drop from September was larger than usually occurs between these months and that the October total remained well below the year-earlier level.

The unemployment rate in October was 4.6 per cent, compared with 4.7 per cent in September and 5.3 per cent in October, 1961. (California rates of unemployment in this release are not seasonally adjusted and, therefore, are not to be compared with seasonally adjusted U.S. rates.)

The California civilian labor force was 6,797,000 in October, compared with 6,627,000 in October, 1961. The civilian labor force consists of the employed and the unemployed available for and seeking work.

Indonesian Bitten By Advertising Bug

Almost everybody has been bitten by the advertising bug at some time or another and every once in awhile somebody is bound to pop up with what he feels to be the perfect selling slogan or the perfect site for that great big sign.

Not too long ago, reports the National Automobile Club, a man over in Indonesia became inspired and wrote the following letter to the advertising department of an automobile company:

"Do you like to place an advertisement on top of the most famous mountain of Indonesia: the Keli Mutu, with its three lakes, red, blue, and green? Every traveler who visits the Island Flores wants to go to the top of it. I hire the place from the King. It will be the first auto advertisement on its top."

Now, there's a man who has been bitten, and bitten badly at that!

Vocational Guidance Class at Adult School

A class in Vocational Counseling will begin at the South San Francisco Adult Night School, Wednesday, February 6, from 7 to 9 p.m., over a nine-week period.

Bill McDonald, a school psychologist in South San Francisco, will head the class. The course will include discussions of occupations followed by aptitude, ability, personality and interest tests. The last two meetings will include personal interviews with each student to discuss the information gained from these tests, his plans and decisions concerning jobs, future education and training and vocational interests.

Information may be obtained by calling the Adult School after 7 p.m., JU 9-6285.

PTA Fetes Staff

Garden Village School staff members were guests of the PTA executive board for luncheon on October 24.

The luncheon chairman was Mrs. John Pickens and she was assisted by Mrs. Jack Bertken, Mrs. Martin Tonnissen, Mrs. Charles Fleischer, Mrs. James Katapodis and Mrs. Jack Mitchell.

The table was decorated with a wedding cake to honor Miss Pat Whitfield's impending marriage. Gifts from teachers were unwrapped during the luncheon.

Miss Whitfield was also guest of honor at a surprise reception held for her by members of her class. Mrs. Berten and Mrs. Castro were room mothers assisting students. Miss Whitfield was presented with several gifts. Refreshments were served.

Students See Livestock At Cow Palace

Kindergarten Students View Sheep At Cow Palace

Daniel Webster kindergarten children in Mrs. Heidland's classes went to the Grand National Livestock Exposition recently to see the farm animals which they have been studying.

Sixty-three children loaded into the big Jefferson school district bus that is provided for field trips, and a bevy of mothers accompanied the group in private cars to serve as room mothers in supervising the children.

In preparation for the trip, the children discussed colorful study prints provided by the well-stocked Instructional Materials Library of the district. The library provides a wealth of animal stories made available by the generosity of the education-wise taxpayer populace and the library-minded board of education. Robert Muller, in charge of the library, sent them a varied and fascinating selection of appropriate animal stories.

A film strip on "Farm Animals" originally teed off the project, and the height of excitment was reached in boarding the big bus. The bus ride was the first for many of the children.

Highlight of the excursion was the thrill of seeing what most of them had never experienced except on television.

Mothers accompanying the group were Mrs. Sokal, Mrs. Ballenger, Mrs. Belliveau, Mrs. Caddell, Mrs. Bordman, Mrs. Gainey, Mrs. De Martini, Mrs. Lazzerini, Mrs. Mikulin, Mrs. Theis, Mrs. Schappert, Mrs. Strayer, Mrs. Davidson, Mrs. Judd, Mrs. McDowell, Mrs. McKim, Mrs. Moquin, Mrs. Murray, Mrs. O'Haire, Mrs. Piznal, Mrs. Rudolph, Mrs. Shanabarger, Mrs. Tabot and Mrs. McIntyre.

McGlynn is responsible for assisting in the development of special projects and analyses on expert marketing of Oronite Division products.

Creative Arts At Ben Franklin

The first issue of the Creative Arts magazine, "Infinity," appeared in the class rooms of Benjamin Franklin Intermediate School. The magazine is composed mainly of fiction stories by students of Benjamin Franklin School, but includes also such things as "stream of consciousness" writing, studies in abstract drawing, and the rules for a ridiculous game called "Dead Ball."

All writing, editing, typing and stenciling, as well as numerous excellent illustrations for stories, was done by the students of the Creative Arts class, with Muriel Friedman as editor. The prepared stencils were run off beautifully by Mrs. Helen Demarest of the office staff.

Creative Art is a new elective for eighth grade students at Benjamin Franklin. Unlike other electives, this subject takes two successive periods, and credit is given for two electives. This procedure eliminates loss of valuable time otherwise used for preparation and clean-up, and permits greater concentration on projects. Twenty-four students compose the class, taught jointly by James Herndon and Frank Ramirez.

Plans of the class range from creative writing to related art activities and projects to dramatics, depending mainly on the student's interests. Students are encouraged to pursue their own interests and initiate their own projects, stimulated by lectures, audio-visual aids, records and similar lessons prepared by the teachers. The class has also conducted experiments on extra-sensory perception.

How To Use And Care For Trees

If you doubt the value of trees, just imagine a garden without them. Could anything be less inviting or more lacking in interest? Most of us would rather live in a cottage with trees than a mansion without them.

Trees lend grandeur and scale to our landscapes. They are the longest lived of our garden plants and as such give a continuity which would otherwise be lacking. Two and three generations will often grow up beneath the shade of some particularly venerable specimen of a tree.

Worth the Effort

Considering the years it takes for a tree to reach maturity, it is worth every effort to preserve existing specimens when we build a new house or remodel an old one. In the same respect, it is worth considerable thought when it comes time to plant a new one. The inexperienced gardener who sets out to plant trees on his home grounds should always consult a member of the California Association of Nurserymen before he starts.

In addition to beauty, a tree has many uses, and the gardener should learn them all. One is planted for shade against the hot summer sun; another for framing a view of the house or from the house. Other trees are planted for their flowers and others still for their fruit.

Trees also are planted as screens and windbreaks or to mark a long drive, as the French have historically done with columns of Lombardy Poplar.

The importance of trees for framing is often overlooked by new home owners, who think primarily of shade when planting. A house is always enhanced by trees planted at its corners, but never by trees planted directly in front. Corner trees or groups of trees will complement architectural lines, while a tree in front cannot help but bisect or hide them. Especially shun the beginner's temptation to plant something big on either side of a doorway.

When planting for shade, observe the same dos and don'ts mentioned above. Take into consideration the arc of the sun and plant at a corner of the house where the most protection will be afforded. Trees on the southwest corner of a house will usually give the most protection. Trees on the northwest corner will be next most effective. As a general rule, we don't want any heavy shade on the northeast corner, and very little of it on the southeast. This will allow summer sun to strike your home in the morning and shade it in the afternoon.

Winter Climate Control

Shade trees should be considered for their winter climate control as well as for their summer shelter. If evergreens such as live oaks or pines are planted for shade, they should be thinned out by an expert to admit enough light to prevent excessive darkness and/or dampness in winter. Deciduous shade trees such as Modesto ash or the tulip tree provide the shade you need in summer, then they drop their leaves to admit wanted light and sun in winter.

It is not uncommon for the inexperienced gardener to plant a new tree and think, "well that does it; nothing to do from here on in." Nothing could be farther from the truth, for like all garden plants, trees require a certain amount of attention.

Pruning is one of the most important steps for the home gardener to master and until he does, he is better off calling on expert help. Pruning enhances the looks and the health of a tree, opening it up to admit light and air and to permit our aesthetic appreciation of its inner framework. All dead wood should be cut out annually and any large cuts should be painted or sprayed with a sealer. There are many good illustrated books on pruning at your local nurseryman.

Feeding and watering are twin aids to faster, more luxuriant growth. When a tree is in its sapling stage, this can be done by the basin methods, but when a tree reaches maturity, it is often better to dig holes around the drop line and to fill them with gravel. Water and food can be applied in these holes with insured penetration.

RELAXED DRIVING

Avoid tense muscles and cramped body positions while driving, advises the National Automobile Club. Sit comfortably erect and move your position frequently.

Urge Early X-Ray to Detect Lung Cancer

Importance of frequent chest x-ray examinations for detecting lung cancer in men over 50 and of early surgery for anyone with a lung lesion suspected of being cancerous is emphasized by findings from Veterans Administration research.

More than 70 VA and Armed Forces hospitals pooled information for a study of 900 male patients who underwent surgery for a single nodule in a lung.

Tabulation of data shows 55 per cent of the nodules in men over 50 were cancerous, according to the chairman of the study, Dr. John D. Steele of the San Fernando, California, VA hospital.

The study emphasizes that only surgery can be depended on to show definitely whether a solitary lung nodule is cancerous.

Although some of the nodules proved to be due to tuberculosis and fungus diseases such as histoplasmosis and coccidioidomycosis rather than cancer, the study shows skin tests are not particularly reliable as an indication of whether TB or fungus diseases are causing such nodules.

COURTLY GAL — Noreen Gilman of Daly City, received royal honors recently as a member of the homecoming queen's court at San Francisco State College.

State College Queen Lives In Daly City

Brown-haired Noreen Gilman, 19, the "sweetheart of the Sigma Pi Sigma" fraternity on the San Francisco State College campus, received the royal honors in the College's Homecoming Queen Court for the 62nd annual Homecoming fete.

The striking beauty who now lives in Daly City accepted the post at the Coronation Ball on Saturday (Nov. 10) night on campus in The Commons.

Miss Gilman, a sophomore class student majoring in political science, besides being the inspiration to the Sigma Pi boys has also been active in Young Republican circles. She was graduated from San Jacinto high school and has worked as a swimming instructor. Miss Gilman is five-foot, nine-inches with hazel colored eyes and brown hair. Her parents reside at Gilman Hot Springs, California.

Upon being informed of her honor, Miss Gilman stated: "Being with Homecoming Queen's Court is the highest social honor I could receive during my education. It will provide me an opportunity to meet many people and to take an active part in campus life."

Miss Gilman won the approval of a panel of judges at a Hotel Mark Hopkins luncheon Saturday (Nov. 10). Included among the decision makers, who selected the winner among five candidates, was President Paul A. Dodd, executive head of San Francisco State College.

The Queen's Court reigns during Homecoming Week which is climaxed on Saturday, Nov. 17, with parades, Alumni reception and luncheon, a football contest between S. F. Gators and Chico State in Cox Stadium, with stunts and band demonstrations, and the Homecoming Ball at the Jack Tar hotel Saturday, Nov. 17, which winds up the fete. Miss Gilman's Queen's Court will appear at all the events.

SSF High Youths Picked For Field Service Program

Terry Burns, Kathy Maloney, Betty Schlaepfer and Jerry Tognetti are South San Francisco High School's semi-finalists for next year's American Field Service program.

Names of the four semi-finalists have been sent to the American Field Service headquarters in New York City, where the final decision will be made.

The finalist will be sponsored by the A.F.S. to a country in the southern hemisphere. The runner-up will most likely be sponsored by the Experiment in International Living program.

The finalists in the program can live in the foreign country from June to January. However, the students usually stay for only two months of the summer.

Several A.F.S. interview questions asked were:

If you lost your passport while abroad, how would you get a new one? If you are not used to drinking wine at home and are living with a family where wine is the only beverage served at meals, what would you do? And, do you ever have difficulty with people in authority?

Schools Prepare Red Cross Boxes

The friendship of children for children received an international boost last week as local school children prepared Junior Red Cross gift boxes for use by Cuban refugee children in Miami, Fla. More than 1,000 of the boxes will be shipped by the Golden Gate chapter of the Red Cross for distribution.

The Junior Red Cross gift box program was integrated with the school curriculum so that children learned about Cuba, its people and customs, as well as current events, while preparing the gift boxes.

Each box had to contain a toothbrush, toothpaste soap and a comb, an educational item such as pencils and an eraser, and fun items to fill in the spaces. Boxes were prepared by age groups, infants to two years and for school children by age divisions.

North County schools participating and their teacher-sponsors included:

San Bruno — El Crystal School, Miss Isabelle Goeltz, Rollingwood; Mrs. Beverly Walkington.

Jefferson — Margaret Pauline Brown, Mrs. Sheila Weghorn; Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Betty DeBolt.

South San Francisco — Buri Buri, Miss Joyce Schoeder; Martin, Mrs. Beulah Derbridge; Serra Vista, Samuel Silverman.

The tables were gay with holiday red pyracantha berries, there were clever printed menus before each place as a large group of Senior Citizens sat down last Wednesday noon to a delicious home cooked roast beef dinner at their center located in Westlake Community Baptist Church social hall.

It was a joyous and memorable occasion for the group because just two years ago the first meeting was held with eight people in attendance and their membership now numbers over 65, with new members joining every week. Mrs. Gladys Ritter was the first president.

Meetings are held every Wednesday between 10:30 a.m. and 3 p.m. with each member bringing their own lunch. Each member of the club is free to participate in what he likes to do, sewing, music, games or just visiting. Regular field trips are planned with trips to interesting places in the Bay Area.

Do plan to drop by the Center some Wednesday or telephone Director Alyce Madsen (PL 5-2630) or club president, Mrs. Bea Batz (WY 2-3980) for more information.

Behind such a lively and successful organization is someone who gives many hours to direct the activities. We salute our community leader of the week, Mrs. Alyce Madsen, through whose efforts the group was organized.

About three years ago, she noticed many senior citizens in the shopping center who seemed to be lonely and didn't seem to have anyone to chat with when they were shopping.

Right then and there she decided that what the area needed was a Senior Citizens group which by the way is a national organization. With her husband John and Mrs. Ivyle Lederer she started the organization and has served as director ever since.

One of her hobbies is cooking. She cooked last week's anniversary dinner and for one year prepared dinner for 50 to 100 members of her church bible study group. She has also modeled in style shows and modeled recently at the YWCA Thursday Girl fashion show.

The John Madsens live at 41 Belmont Drive in Westlake and have been local residents for 12 years.

X-MAS JOBS FOR WOMEN

There is a demand for women to work as sales clerks and cashier-wrappers between now and Christmas, according to information received in Daly City from Miss Phyllis Gillett, manager of the Professional and Commercial office of the California State Employment Service, 134 California Street, San Francisco.

"Openings are available for full time applicants," she said, "and while it is advantageous if one has had experience, the stores are aware of the shortage of trained personnel; if the applicant is the possessor of a warm personality, is well dressed and has common sense, her chances of getting a job are excellent. In fact, many stores have training classes for all of their Christmas employees.

"I also want to stress," said Miss Gillett, "that there is never a fee charged to an applicant. The office is located at 134 California Street, and is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Woodrow Wilson PTA News Notes

The board of trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District will devote an entire meeting to a review of the present student behavior policy in the schools.

Parents are encouraged to attend the meeting, which is to be held Monday, November 26, at 8 p.m. in the Board Room, 101 Lincoln avenue.

Rag Drive

Rags of all descriptions are being sought for the benefit drive of the Woodrow Wilson PTA. If you have more than your child can carry, telephone PL 6-5493 for pick-up, or they may be brought directly to school at 3 Miriam street.

The bags for the rag drive will be sent home with the children on Monday, November 26, and are to be returned by the following Wednesday.

Now is the time to weed out your discards, clean out the closets, etc., of miscellaneous items of apparel, rags and whatnots. Have a clean house for the holidays, which are so soon to be upon us. The knickknacks are being collected now for a White Elephant Sale planned for January.

The next unit meeting of Woodrow Wilson PTA is on November 20 at 7:30 p. m. in the multi-use room. The theme of the evening is "Curriculum Nite."

This program will send all the parents back to school for 40 minutes to sit at their children's desks, to meet the instructors and to learn what goes on in class.

Each teacher has enthusiastically planned the evening's program so mother and Dad will know what is expected of the students, and the aims of the school year.

Questions will be answered in these small groups by the teacher. This is a wonderful opportunity to know your child's teacher.

The pre-school child may be placed in the nursery during this period, after which refreshments will be served.

A Step Forward

Mayor Joe Verducci last week directed the Daly City staff to make an analysis of county land adjacent to the city with a possible view toward future annexations.

We are heartily in favor of this move, for future developments can have a bearing on the political and economic welfare of Daly City. Too often, in other areas, have cities been faced with completed developments asking for annexation which were built at standards not compatible with those of the city. This often creates hard feelings which could have been avoided had the city involved been actively concerned at an early date.

What actions may be recommended by staff, remain to be seen. But the steps authorized may solve many problems before they arise and smooth the way for the community to grow in an organized manner.

We are sure that those who have already made major investments in the growth of Daly City will be anxious that future developments are compatible with that which already exist.

Old World Thanksgiving

The Pilgrims were joining some strange company when they declared a Thanksgiving celebration in 1661. For the practice of giving thanks for a plentiful harvest goes back almost to the time when man first gave up wandering and hitched himself to a plow.

Along the Mediterranean, ancient peoples held festivals at harvest time in honor of a mother goddess. The Semites called her Astarte, while the Phrygians named her Semele.

The Romans honored Ceres, the goddess of agriculture, in a celebration called the Cerealia, reports World Book Encyclopedia. And the Greeks paid tribute to Demeter in secret rites called the Eleusinian Mysteries.

Christianity put an end to many of these festivals, but a pagan-inspired belief in the Corn Mother, or the Mother of Grains, survived among some peasants in the British Isles and Europe. Her spirit was thought to live in the last sheaf of grain left standing in the field.

In northern England, the last handful of corn was the "kirn," and sometimes it was fashioned into a "kirn roll." In Austria it was shaped into a wreath and placed on the head of a girl who became the harvest queen.

During the Middle Ages the most common thanksgiving and harvest festival was held on the Feast of Saint Martin of Tours, or Martinmas, on November 11. People throughout Europe still celebrate the day with feasts and new wine.

The Pilgrims probably became familiar with this celebration when they went to Holland to escape persecution in England, and it may have been the remembrance of this holiday that inspired them to hold a thanksgiving feast after their first prosperous year in the New World.

Something For Everyone

by
Samuel Chandler

My book and heart shall never part." These words from a New England primer remind us that during November we mark Children's Book Week.

There is magic in children's books—magic to stir the imagination of little readers and to stretch their minds while filling them with permanent and positive values. No other medium of communication can do this so well. To be entertaining, television programs must move at a pace that allows little time for reflection. Most movies are made to be seen once and never referred to again. (Most of those that have proved to have lasting value have been based upon books.)

This is a fact that nearly everyone accepts. Yet the number of children who are not introduced to books is growing so large that J. M. Ross has observed that the grandchildren of today's children may be illiterate.

It is necessary, therefore, for today's adults to examine means of encouraging children to read. One of the first things that each parent should do is budget the child's time, giving a fair share to reading.

Another thing is to demonstrate that reading is a defense against sickness, fatigue, loneliness, boredom, and more important, against false propaganda. This can be done by reading with the child and by helping him choose what he reads.

Some principles of selecting books and periodicals for children may prove helpful. Select books that will tend toward the development and enrichment of liwe.

Let the basis of selection be positive, not negative. If the best that can be said about a book is that it will do no harm, don't choose it. The funny books and the TV give children enough of that. Select material that contains some humor. Humor is as Walt Disney wrote "a sort of international sixth sense. Without humor we would become woeful, spiritless creatures."

Select books where basic morality is implied but not preached. Select books with good stories and great ideas. Do not select books that talk down to the child. It is a strange but true fact that the books that children have loved for generations were written for adults as well as children. Select material that is well written. The genius of the fairy tales is their lucidity.

Select books for a purpose—to amuse, to inspire, to give information, to correspond with the child's activities in school and on the playground.

The View From ..Behind The Badge

Written and Edited by Daly City Police Department

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT . . .

The City Hall is a well constructed building which was erected under the auspices of the old W.P.A. It is a good building, and was probably adequate to house the services being rendered to the city in 1939. Not only is it not adequate today, but it is highly inadequate.

GROWING PAINS . . .

The space which was originally alloted to the Police Department now houses the Chief of Police in one office, a Captain, Chief's Secretary and typist clerk in another, and the city PBX operator in a third cubbyhole.

The Department, burgeoning along at a pace with an exploding population and land annexations, has necessarily encroached into other City Hall spaces. The office which once housed the City Building Inspector now is called home by the Detective Division.

What was once the office for the city Water Department is now the main business office for the Police. The invaded activities have long since retreated to other buildings.

The business office houses several operations. They include the police dispatcher, the warrant clerk, a clerk typist, a clerk, and a traffic Sergeant. This is necessary bureaucracy, designed to support and maintain the operating units and their efforts.

COFFEE, ANYONE?

Downstairs is a beatup "squadroom." Rollcalls and in-service training are conducted here. Wanted posters adorn the walls. It is also a coffee room. Women employees rate a lounge by state law, and, believe it or not, this is "it."

This room has been subdivided enough times as to resemble a rabbit warren. One subdivision houses stored records and evidence, which is contained in lockers. Another subdivision contains a photography room. No natural daylight makes its way into any of these spaces.

Further tucked away in this basement is an ammunition reloading room, and a property room.

LOCKER ROOM . . .

The officers have lockers. They are located in a lavatory. New lockers have been added to accomodate the growing personnel. Unfortunately, these lockers decrease the already very limited space. A report writing table is elbow distance away from a urinal. It is really quite crowded.

THE LOCKUP . . .

Three jail cells are located at the basement level, one story and half of a building removed from all other round-the-clock functions. It remains for the patrolman assigned to guard Beat One to subtract his protecting presence from the citizenry to look in on prisoners. It seems that the building is incorrectly laid out for these purposes.

READER'S INTEREST . . .

If the reader has labored this far through this deathless prose, he may have an idea that this has all been said before. It has.

The problem seems to be that the building has not been replaced with a new and modern plant for the Police Department. For a Department that is third largest in the county, among city departments, and which handles the second largest number of complaints and investigations, it is the last facility without an adequate or modern plant from which to work.

The problem is ridiculous and the quarters untenable. Efficiency is affected.

THE FUTURE . . .

The problem will not go away if it is ignored. It is steadily worsening. We rate better quarters and should have them. Such quarters, in the unlikely event they are to materialize, should provide for future needs, so that they will not be obsolete and overcrowded in this lifetime.

Citizens are welcome to view our present facilities, and to compare them with the really excellent plants at Redwood City and San Mateo.

Many grade school classes have toured the building in the course of their studies. Frankly, we would rather show the place to adults who would better appreciae the crowded, inadequate, outdated facility.

WHAT NEXT?

No doubt one day the Police Department will get a new plant. The question seems to be "when?" Let's face it, if we had the go-ahead tomorrow, by the time land was obtained, plans made, modified, and approved, and construction implemented, a year and a half would be gone.

Add to this the usual, expected labor problems, rising costs, and other typical delays, and the building is a good two years away—this, if the go-ahead were to be given tomorrow!

We are in bad shape now. What will two plus years bring, if we don't get action soon?

Help!

Daly City's 80 foot tall Christmas tree, which stands like a beacon of light high above the city in the Crocker foothills, will be moved to a higher and better elevation this year by city crews. Last year's tree blew down. Hank Weisner, chief electrician and his men, will string 1400 lights of the 40 watt bulb type, up and down the tree. The multi-colored tree will be harnessed up about the middle of December.

Residents who had protested against Doelger Corp.'s plans to rezone property near Fairlawn Court from Single Family and Unclassified to Multiple Family zoning are now asking for zoning changes.

One of the leaders in the fight, Mrs. John F. Flaherty, of 72 Fairlawn court, is requesting along with two of her neighbors, to rezone from single family to multiple family. The request will be considered at the next meeting of the planning commission.

Gateway Chevrolet, which had earlier requested that a 90-foot high sign, topped by a revolving "Golden Gate Bridge" with flashing lights radiating from it be installed next to the Mission Street firm, is now asking for 63 feet, but the Daly City planning commission still takes a wait and see attitude. Commission members and company representatives will meet this week to talk over sign plans.

The Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce is rattling into action again with a big installation dinner planned for Nov. 29 at the Bunker Room of Cypress Hills Golf Course. Judge Frank B. Blum, speaker of the night, will talk on "Juvenile Court."

top of the hill

By ARTEMUS BIERCE

A recent story out of London, England, reported that the Queen's scientists have discovered a new synthetic product — milk without cows.

According to Dr. Hugh Franklin, research leader at the Vegetarian Research Center, the limey boys have hit upon the formula of making milk out of the same raw materials that cows do: green leaves.

The man-made milk, to date, has been created from carrot tops, outer cabbage leaves and pea pods, plus a large number of unedible green plants.

Aside from making cows obsolete and causing the American Dairy Association to institute a costly campaign, this could create many other problems when shopping for groceries at the little corner store. Take this case, for example: Euphrides Vunderlubben walks into Mario's little corner grocery store and approaches the refrigerator:

"Hey, Mario, where is the milk" she shouted to the wrinkled little store keeper.

"We don't handle the liquid stuff anymore. Our new motto is progress. We have this nice new powdered form made from greens," he answers proudly.

The shocked housewife walks over to the shelf and looks at the various brands: Cabbage milk, green-bean milk, sugar beet milk, succini milk, and a very expensive brand called "Milk of the Dandelion." How about some good old-fashioned milk from the cow?" Mrs. Vunderlubben asks. "I am not looking for a vegetable for the table, just a nice glass of white milk," she expresses.

"But think of the advantages of this milk," says the confident storekeeper. "There is a lot of class in this new stuff," says Mario. "The new milk comes in pastel colors for the convenience of decorating the dinner table, have our pale, feminine pink rhubarb milk, which goes delightfully with corn on the cob, spinach and blue swordfish. And then there is the subtle turnip blue which befits the cocktail party occasions," says Mario.

"But, but . . ." protests Mrs. Vanderlubben.

"And it also has other advantages," vociferates the excited storekeeper. "How else could you get chartreuse pankcakes for breakfast?" he asks of the lady.

"I don't want chartreuse pancakes, khaki-green cookies or cabbage-smelling cakes," she answers adamantly. "All that I want is real, honest-to-goodness cow milk which comes from the real cow, not out of the test tubes of the scientist nor the minds of the Madison Avenue boys," she replies in an emotional state, and then walks out.

Mario, who used to run the quiet little Italian grocery store with all of the commodities of yester year, swears quietly under his breath and then removes the colorful boxes of powdered milk from the shelves.

This story has rather a sad ending for progress, but you know that old saying: "You can take the milk out of the cow, but you can't take the cow out of the milk."

Eh?

Sweet Sounds of Yuletide Music. The Daly City Belltones will go on a Christmas caroling walk the eves of December 19 and 21 in the Crocker section of Daly City.

The children from General Pershing School got a real wet welcome from the Daly City fire department the other day. The children went on a tour of the department, and one of the smoke-eaters was congenially showing the kids the various equipment.

When he got to the hoses, the fireman began demonstrating how they were used. He switched on the nozzle, and lo and behold, somebody forgot to tell him that the water was on. The result — swish — a group of wet children and an embarrassed fireman.

Letters To The Editor

Thanks Extended For KO Polio Drive

Editor:

The physicians of the Bay Area join me in extending our deepest appreciation for the vital role you played in making the K. O. POLIO program the greatest mass immunization in medical history.

It was a public service of the highest order.

Thanks in great part to your help in informing the public, we are happily assured that the Bay Area now is free from the tragedy of either a Type I or Type II polio epidemic.

An immense amount of hard work was put into the program by everyone involved. But its success was especially heartwarming to physicians. All of us have seen too many times the despair and agony that polio can bring to a happy home.

We went into the campaign originally to immunize as many persons as possible against the dreadful disease. As we developed and spearheaded the drive, though, we gained for more than just medical satisfaction.

We experienced the warm, personal pleasure of working side by side with neighbors from all walks of life against a common enemy.

Everyone connected with the K. O. POLIO campaign fought the good fight—and won. The experience will remain, fresh and bright, in our memories.

Again, our thanks and best wishes to you.

Sincerely,
EDWARD B. SHAW, M.D.

Commend Police Dept. View-Badge Article

Editor The Times:

We would like to commend the Daly City police department for their column, "The View from Behind the Badge" in your issue of November 7.

The reversal of the conviction of the dirty book seller is appalling and this problem should not be forgoten. Freedom of speech and press should not include the type of literature that is undermining and demoralizing our youth.

We are happy to know that the Daly City police department is concerned about this problem.

Do You Know?

One of the Miette Range peaks in the sky-piercing Canadian Rockies in 4,200 square mile Jasper National Park has been named in honor of the late Dr. Thomas O'Hagan, who for 25 years was Jasper's only doctor. He was also named Jasper's most respected and cherished citizen. He died in 1957 at the age of 78.

Doctor O'Hagan was known not only to his people in Jasper and outlying districts but to thousands of American visitors to the Canadian National's swank resort, Jasper Park Lodge, which he served as lodge physician as well as CN company surgeon over the years.

A memorial has been erected in Doctor Tom's honor in the form of a bronze bust, on a base of native stone in the grounds of the Jasper Village Hospital which Dr. O'Hagan was instrumental in having built.

Among the scores of persons who contributed to this memorial are some who still remember Tom O'Hagan from the "old days"; making his rounds on horseback, an immaculate figure in light fawn whip-cord breeches, leather leggings which were burnished until they glistened, always a small, fresh boutonniere in the lapel of his grey tweed jacket and his faithful two airedales loping behind the fetlock of his horse, a sleek, mettlesome beast in proud distinction to the shop-worn pintos of the local cowboys.

In naming 8,021-foot Mount O'Hagan after the Doctor who has been hailed as "an outstanding benefactor of mankind," the Canadian Board of Geographic Names followed a tradition dating back to the 1857-1861 expedition of Capt. John Pallister of England to report on the feasibility of building a transcontinental railroad through the Canadian Rockies along the route now followed by the Canadian National. FNS

FOR A COOLER HOME THIS SUMMER

You can make your home a cooler, more comfortable place in which to live this summer in just a single weekend! Consider installing an attic fan to keep air circulating. Remove heavy rugs and replace with light straw carpets. Switch to light, airy curtains while heavy draperies are cleaned.
Screens in good repair let breezes in, keep insects out. You'll find a staple gun or tacker handy for repairing torn screens. Replace worn and damaged sections that serve as an entrance for insect pests and tack in new screening to keep bugs out.
Insulation is a fine investment in year-round comfort. It helps keep homes cool during summer and warm in winter. You can install attic insulation—available in roll batting form—more easily and quickly with a Markwell L-3 Tacker than with hammer and nails. The Markwell unit fastens insulation securely, providing permanent protection against penetrating summer heat.

SOME SHIPS HAVE CAPSIZED AS SOON AS THEY WERE LAUNCHED, and others have stuck on the ways. Here is one sliding in the water with 190 feet of its hull—the entire stern—missing. However, nobody goofed this time. The giant 23,500 ton "World Mariner" will find its stern waiting for it in a nearby drydock.

Hellenic Shipyards at Skaramanga, Greece, has built this sleek bulk carrier for Greek shipowner Stavros Niarchos. The stern, on the other hand, was built at Portland, Ore., in 1943 as part of a tanker. It helped the Allies win World War II, assisted in the rehabilitation of Europe and aided the conservation of America's remaining oil reserves by bringing us petroleum from the Persian Gulf. After nineteen years the tanks were worn out, but the stern which contained the valuable machinery and living quarters was still as good as new.

So now, as part of the new "World Mariner," the same power plant will continue pushing the world's commerce across the oceans. From here on, however, her cargoes will be such things as surplus grain for hungry nations; export coal from American mines; and ore from the distant deposits upon which the industrial Western nations increasingly depend. *Oops

Explorers Club To See Garden Film

Laurel Reynolds will narrate her color film, "Garden Discovery" Sunday afternoon, November 25, as the opening attraction of a new series of Sunday afternoon nature programs being presented at Morrison Auditorium, California Academy of Sciences, in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco.

Mrs. Reynolds photographed her film in Northern California's most beautiful gardens. Her film deals with the many plant treasures that flourish there, as well as the animal visitors of the gardens. Mrs. Reynolds is a recipient of the California Conservation Council Award.

The film series is being sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco as a method of stressing the importance of conservation and the club's wildlife preserve program. Proceeds will benefit the club's scholarship award fund.

'Big Game Gaieties' Opens At Stanford

The show, presented for the fifty-first year by Ram's Head Productions, will continue through Friday night. A traditional part of Big Game Week, the show celebrates the annual football clash between Stanford and rival California.

Tickets are available from the Tresidder Union Box Office, located in the new Student Union at Stanford. Performance times are 8:30 p.m. for the Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday performances, and 9:30 p.m. on Friday, after the Big Game Bonfire.

High Jumping Skier

LEAPIN' LARRY Penacho, San Diego, Cal., soars 145 feet off the jump ramp to take the Queen's Silver Bowl as best skier in the fourth annual Masters Water Ski Tournament at Callaway Gardens, Georgia. Hitting the ramp at 60 miles an hour, Penacho almost draws abreast of the two 100-hp Mercury outboards on the tow boat.

LAW IN ACTION

ASSUMPTION OF RISK

Recently a door-to-door salesman tried to leave a catalog at a home. The owner's barking dog chased him for fifty feet along the inside fence, barking the while. When he opened the gate, the dog bit him.

The salesman sued. A California law makes owners liable to a person if bitten by the dog: (1) while in a public place, or (2) when lawfully on private property.

When is a salesman lawfully on private property? When he has reason to think he is welcome and can do business with the owner.

Yet in this salesman's case the court freed the dog owner of blame. The salesman "had assumed the risk" of being bitten. A dog which barks along a fifty foot fence should have warned the salesman of his danger, a danger he assumed when he opened the gate.

One may also assume a "limited" risk. To be sure, a man who knowingly tried to ride an unbroken mule would assume the full risk of being thrown. But a woman who was thrown from a mule which was continually hired out for Grand Canyon packtrips assumed only the risks of the trip on a gentle, well-broken mule. She could recover damages.

You assume the risk and get no recovery for injuries if you knew or should have known of your risk.

What if people tell you in so many words that you "assume the risk" or "take your own chances?" Those warnings control unless the people have an unfair bargaining power, or are breaking a safety law. For example, a sign in one public swimming pool said "Bathers use the pool at their own risk." Here the sign was not controlling since state law called for a life-guard no matter what the sign said.

Above all, be extra careful with children. Under the law the risks they assume are not like those of adults. At certain ages they assume no risks. For they do not size up dangers as adults do. They lack judgment, and others must look out for them.

Note: California lawyers offer this column so you may know about our laws.

EVEN THE FINEST SEAMSTRESS cannot turn out a professional garment unless she knows the art of pressing. So, it behooves the home seamstress to know, first, how to press inside seams, darts, etc., as she sews and next, how to do the final pressing when the garment is completed. If pressing is neglected as you sew, no amount of outside pressing can give the garment a smooth, custom look.

As for pressing various types of fabrics, up-to-date irons, of course, tell us where to set the temperature, but we must know what materials we are pressing. For instance, Talon's new Zephyr zipper is made of nylon coil—the only product so far that will give a zipper so many wonderful advantages.

Nylon has made it possible for the coil to be permanently dyed to any fashion color. It is the reason that the zipper is thin as a seam, and so flexible. It can even pull itself out of a jam—bend it, pull it open, zip it down and up, and it's as good as new!

Zephyr can be used with any fabrics and in any fashion, but naturally when pressing, the zipper should be closed and the iron set at synthetic, nylon or steam setting. If a higher temperature is needed or the zipper must be open, cover placket with a press cloth, and you will enjoy the advantages that only a nylon coil zipper can give. In any event instructions are found right in zipper packages.

URGE BUY SEALS TO CURE 300 COUNTY TB VICTIMS

For more than 25 years now, the San Mateo County TB & Health Association has been fighting tuberculosis. Great progress has been made, but 300 people in our county are presently under treatment for tuberculosis.

That is why the TB Association has as its major goal the eradication of tuberculosis from San Mateo County. With the powerful drugs discovered and in use in the past 18 years, TB can be wiped out if every active case is found and treated.

Finding, diagnosing, and treating all respiratory disease is one way of preventing TB. That's why the TB Association has always fought respiratory disease. But now, with the stepped-up drive to eliminate tuberculosis, the control of other respiratory diseases is becoming even more important.

Respiratory diseases kill and disable. They can also weaken people so much that they are vulnerable to other killers. People with TB germs in their bodies can come down with active TB if they are weakened by other respiratory diseases.

These are some of the reasons why Christmas Seal dollars are needed more urgently than ever before. Answer your Christmas Seal letter today and give generously.

Gardener's Checklist

1.—Garden cleanup is your assurance against overwintering pests and diseases. Rake up fallen leaves and uproot faded annuals. You can throw healthy plant material on the compost, but burn any that is diseased.

2.—Prepare planting holes for soon-to-be planted roses, fruit trees, and other deciduous plants. Mix steer manure and bone meal in the soil.

3.—Give house plants a "shower" by syringing dust off the leaves. Shop for new house plants to keep you busy during the winter months.

4.—Annuals may still be planted for late winter bloom. Try Calendulas, Iceland Poppies, Pansies and Fairy Primroses.

5.—Do not forcibly separate Tuberous Begonia bulbs from the plants when they die back. Wait until a gentle tug will do the job.

California ranks 13th in the nation in population density, accommodating 100.4 persons per square mile.

International Committee Of The Red Cross

The International Committee of the Red Cross—many recognize the name but few are familiar with what it is or what it does.

Attention was focused on this unique organization recently when President Kennedy agreed with a Soviet proposal to have the International Committee carry out agreed upon procedure during the current Cuban crisis.

What is the International Committee of the Red Cross? The Golden Gate Chapter, American Red Cross, this week released the following information about the Swiss organization:

It is a group of 25 Swiss citizens with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland. The Committee is completely autonomous—non-political, non-sectarian. It is a self-perpetuating group. When one member dies or retires, his successor is elected by the remaining members of the Committee.

The funds for the ICRC come from an annual campaign which is limited to Switzerland, voluntary contributions from private citizens, national Red Cross societies and governments.

The ICRC is recognized by virtually every nation in the world as the neutral channel for negotiation between belligerents in the protection of victims of war, and as a means by which organized relief can cross battle lines or enter an area of conflict. There have been relatively few instances in which signatories of the Geneva Conventions have refused the offices of the ICRC or denied access to its representatives.

The historical beginning of the ICRC dates back to a five-member study commission formed in 1953 by the Swiss Society of Public Welfare to consider proposals by Henri Dunant, a Swiss businessman, for an organization that was to become the Red Cross.

Later that year, the study group became known as the Committee of the Red Cross, a name which lasted until 1880 when ICRC became its official designation.

In wars, civil strife or internal conflicts, ICRC representatives visit places of detention—camps, prisons or hospitals—and inspect the condition of the prisoners or internees. They use their influence to ensure the proper treatment of prisoners and the application of the Geneva Conventions.

The ICRC is the guardian of the Geneva Conventions, which spell out the principles of neutrality and protect from unnecessary suffering sick and wounded prisoners and civilian populations in occupied countries.

As such, the ICRC might be termed the "conscience of the world." To illustrate the variety of ICRC work, here is a rundown of some Committee activities during the first half of this year:

•At the request of the UN, an ICRC delegate visited New Guinea and helped arrange for the release and repatriation of Indonesians held by the Netherlands government.

•At the request of the Chinese Red Cross, an ICRC delegate found and located the Central Vietnam 20 Hainan fishermen whose ship had been wrecked in the Tonkin Gulf. The delegate then obtained a junk and turned it over to the shipwrecked sailors for their return home.

•An ICRC delegate visited penal institutions in Yugoslavia to talk with political prisoners and to ascertain the conditions of their imprisonment.

•In Hungary, three ICRC representatives investigated 108 new cases of victims of psuedo-medical experiments carried out by the Nazis in concentration camps during World War II.

What kind of a man is an ICRC delegate?

Andre Durand, who has been one for 20 years, is a good example of these Swiss who work untiringly to put Red Cross principles into practice the world over.

Since 1951, Durand has served in Hong Kong, Vietnam, Indonesia, Ceylon, Thailand, Jaers in accordance with the Geneva Conventions.

Durand carried out all these assignments after recovering from severe wounds received while on duty with the ICRC in Palestine during the 1948 Arab-Israel conflict. These wounds cost him the loss of an arm.

Many ICRC representatives have lost their lives in service, the most recent being Georges Olivet, who was killed last December in the Congo while attempting to evacuate civilians.

Heart Association To Sell Christmas Cards

"Both the giver and the recipient appreciate Christmas cards from the heart," said Dr. Marvin L. Auerback of San Mateo, announcing two new Christmas cards now available from the San Mateo County Heart Association.

A silhouette of the San Francisco skyline, against a blue background, with a purplish moon overhead, combines both the traditional and contemporary thought in one card.

The other card is the familiar partridge in a pear tree—with a gold pear tree against a magenta background, the partridge in gold flecked with magenta ("an exquisite card," according to Mrs. Don M. Davis, secretary and board member of the association).

Cards are available in multiples of 25. Contributions to the San Mateo County Heart Association generally range from 25 cents to $1 per card and are tax deductible. Cards are available plain or with a one-line imprint for an additional contribution of $2 per order.

Students from the San Francisco Art Institute designed the cards: Sherman Fong rendered the partridge design, and Richard Downes the San Francisco silhouette.

For sample cards and further information, write the San Mateo County Heart Association, 45 North B Street, San Mateo.

Advice About Wheels

Have the front wheel alignment checked at least every three months, advises the National Automobile Club.

Bumping against a curb in parking, or pushing another car to get out of a space, may knock the wheels out of line.

Silent Fairbanks Movie at Fox

Gaylord Carter, distinguished keyboard artist, will be at the console of the Fox's mighty Wurlitzer pipe organ as the silent screen The Great Douglas Fairbanks, Sr., in the original "The Mark of Zorro" (1920) plays at the Fox theater, 1350 Market street, San Francisco, at midnight, Saturday, December 1.

"The Mark of Zorro" is a romantic comedy drama adapted from the famous story "The Curse of Capistrano," and contains all the ingredients that go to make an ideal Fairbanks picture — athletic stunts heretofore unequalled by Doug — plenty of romance and comedy that in no way interferes with the action.

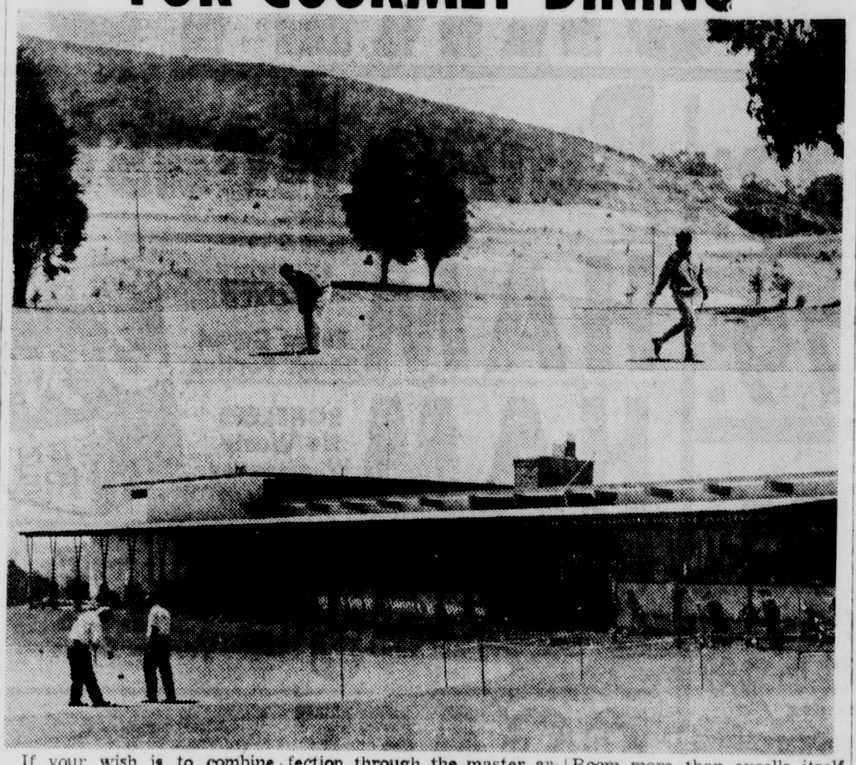
BUNKER ROOM RESTAURANT FOR GOURMET DINING



If your wish is to combine good food and charming surroundings, the Bunker Room Restaurant located at the Cypress Hills Golf Course in the San Bruno mountains, should be your choice. Featuring excellent cuisine served to perfection through the master artistry of chef Otello Matteucci, the Bunker Room offers the diner a country club atmosphere amidst a congenial setting.

As illustrated in the above pictures, the diner is able to look out upon the beautiful rolling hills and scenic golf course as he is enjoying the sumptuous fare, always a mainstay at the Bunker Room.

A comparative newcomer to the list of top dining spots, in the Peninsula area, the Bunker Room more than excells itself in serving the finest in delightful cuisine amidst luxurious surroundings. A lounge, called appropriately enough The Tee Room, also invites the weary golfer to take a refreshing break after a strenuous round of golf. Open for breakfast, lunch or dinner, the Bunker Room should be a must on your dining out list. Phone Gene Zerga at WY 2-5157 for reservations the very next time you are looking for a delightfully different meal.

LITERARY FORGERY ANCIENT ART, SAYS UC RARE BOOKS LIBRARIAN

An 18-year-old boy once wrote a play, claimed it was penned by Shakespeare, and almost got away with the hoax.

In the whole long and amusing history of literary frauds, this ranks as one of the most remarkable cases, according to Kenneth J. Carpenter, director of the Rare Book Room in the Berkeley Library of the University of California.

Forgeries of all kinds are probably as old as civilization itself, says Carpenter. Archaeologists have shown that the ancient Sumerians were apparently plagued by counterfeiters and other types of forgers thousands of years before Christ. Profit was the motive for this type of crime, just as it is today.

During the time of the Renaissance—four or five hundred years ago—forgers suddenly became active in many fields of creative art. They began to make imitations of great Latin and Greek classics, which were then coming into vogue in Europe. They also cleverly copied old Greek medals and passed off bogus imitations of ancient art. Such things brought a high price during the Age of Enlightenment in Europe.

William Ireland, the young man referred to at the outset, lived in London during the latter part of the 18th century. Ireland's literary forgeries began well before his 20th birthday when he wrote a play, asserted that the author was William Shakespeare, and even got the play produced in the theater.

Before his exposure, young Ireland had made plans to write an entire series of spurious Shakespeare plays, beginning with William the Conqueror and working down through history to Queen Elizabeth the First. If he had not been unmasked at such a tender age, Ireland might have gone on to be one of the most industrious literary forgers of all time.

Top honors in this field, however, must be awarded to a Frenchman named Vrain Lucas, who peddled his forgeries a few years after the middle of the 19th century. Lucas' major customer was a noted mathematician a nd astronomer named Michel Chasles, who set some sort of world's record for sheer gullibility.

Chasles' appetite for manuscripts was equaled only by Lucas' ability to turn them out. Over a period of eight years, Lucas sold his pigeon more than 27,000 letters. Almost miraculously, whenever Chasles expressed an interest in some historical character, or wanted to prove French priority in some discovery, Lucas was able to "find" and produce the needed documents.

Chasles would buy any document, so long as it fitted in with the "facts" he was trying to establish. To be sure, many of the letters Chasles bought were superficially plausible. Some were skillfully contrived. But others were signed by such people as Shakespeare, Julius Caesar, Plato, the Twelve Apostles, Cleopatra, Lazarus, and Mary Magdalene.

Furthermore, all of the letters, regardless of the nationality of the author, were written in French, and on good French paper. How Chasles ever accepted this last fact really strains the imagination—for paper was not even known until a thousand years or so after a good many of the supposed correspondents had died.

Lucas was finally arested, and sentenced to jail. But just before he was picked up, he had laid the groundwork for selling Chasles his masterpiece of forgery: the original manuscript of the Sermon on the Mount, signed by Jesus Christ, and written, of course, in French.

The successful literary forger, says Carpenter, must be alert to the particular interests of his time. As with most everything else, styles in collecting are subject to change. One decade there may be a sudden craze for the letters of Lord Byron; in the next, the letters of Keats or Shelley may be frantically sought. Whatever happens to be in vogue brings the highest prices.

Newly developed methods of detection have probably brought to an end the age of great hoaxes and forgeries in the tradition of Vrain Lucas and Ireland. Yet literary forgery is still occasionally practiced. A modern example, in our own country, has been the recent bumper crop of fake Lincolniana — forged letters and messages presumably written and signed by Abraham Lincoln.

One of the shrewdest Lincoln forgers in recent years was a man who went by the alias, "Joseph Cosey." Cosey managed to unearth a supply of paper bearing an 1851 watermark, having a blue color identical with the paper on which some of Lincoln's legal documents were written. He marketed his Lincoln manuscripts with cool craft, never actually saying that he was offering a Lincoln but simply presenting the document with the remark that he had found it in an attic or cellar, and knew nothing of its value.

TV and RADIO

By Mona Baker

NBC's brightly colored peacock (the symbol of TV shows in color) has been spreading open his rainbow tail over more colored shows than any other season and the most colorful of all is the coming holiday season.

Beginning with Thanksgiving Day and right through into January the coming specials in color in addition to the many regularly scheduled programs will offer a delightful array of entertaining programs as colorful as the trimmings on your Christmas tree.

Scheduled for Thanksgiving Day over KRON-TV are three outstanding colorcasts: Macy's Thanksgiving Day parade and circus, a Pat Boone special with holiday theme, and in the evening the "Bell Telephone Hour" with Carl Sandburg reading an original Thanksgiving Day poem, stars John Raitt, Mahalia Jackson and Martha Wright, and the West Point Glee Club as added attractions.

Promising to be one of the highlights of the current season is "Shakespeare: Soul of an Age" (Nov. 30, 7:30 p.m.) with Sir Michael Redgrave, and Sir Ralph Richardson, a full-hour special filmed in Europe.

December, too, will have a rainbow of color specials beginning with "Cyrano de Bergerac" on "Hallmark Hall of Fame" (Dec. 6) a special one-hour show filmed aboard a Polaris submarine, (Dec. 19) and a host of Christmas shows in addition to the famed Rose Bowl parade.

So important to good color reception is location and the Daly City area is known as one of the best in the entire Bay Area for receiving color.

Guest pianist on a special KPIX Thanksgiving program "the Richmond Youth Concert" (Nov. 22, 3 p.m.) will be 15-year old Vera Breheda daughter of Mrs. Alexander Breheda, 1834 Sunnydale in Visitacion Valley. The young artist is a sophomore at Balboa High School and she told us this is her first television appearance as well as her first appearance with the San Francisco symphony. A student at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music for six years, she is now studying with Adolph Baller.

Capuchino High School in San Bruno is the subject of this Saturday's "High School Salute" over KPIX Dance Party at 3 p.m.

ABC's Roy Rogers-Dale Evans show this Saturday evening (KGO-TV, 8 p.m.) will feature the Grand National Horse Show from the Cow Palace highlighted by the famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police precision riders.

Premiering this week (Nov. 21, 8 p.m.) KQED will take viewers back to the "Turn of the Century" with Max Morath in a gay and tuneful new television series.
